Special Ceremonies Will Mark Toll Bridge Freeing Tomorrow

Two Ribbon-cuttings To Feature Program At 9:30 in Morning

Just as special ceremonies marked the opening of the Charleroi-Monessen toll bridge back in 1907, special ceremonies will also be held tomorrow morning at 9:30 to mark the lifting of tolls on the 50-year-old span.

Mayor Hugo J. Parente, member of the Chamber of Commerce board of directors headed by Charles W. Hagerstrand, president, and the Chamber's Merchants Division led by Norman Henderson, chairman, will take part in ribbon-cutting ceremonies on the Monessen side of the bridge.

Charleroi officials will be conducting similar ceremonies at the same time on their side of the span.

Special Program

Both groups will then meet for a special program in the center of the structure.

Following the official dedication of the toll-free bridge, the officials will take part in a motorcade through Monessen and Charleroi.

Others to take part in the ceremonies include Edwin Dawson, works manager of the Monessen plant of Pittsburgh Steel Co.; Harvey W. Seymour, general manager of the Monessen Page plant of American Chain & Cable Co., Inc.; Norbert G. Bell, district engineer, state Department of Highways, and Michael J. Skirpan, Jr., chairman of the Chamber's program and entertainment committee.

More than $2,000.000 in tolls has been paid since the bridge was officially opened to traffic between the two communities.

Missing Witness Is Found

Teamster Boss Dave Beck's Wife's Cousin Located By Senate Probers

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Senate Rackets Committee today bagged one of four missing witnesses in its sensational investigation of Teamster President Dave Beck.

U.S. Marshal W. Budd Parsons of Seattle, Wash., said a deputy marshal had served a subpena on Norman Gessert, a cousin of Beck's wife, at Ellensburg, Wash., Monday night.

The committee has been searching for weeks for Gessert and the three other witnesses. All were last reported to have slipped over the Canadian border to Vancouver.

The other three are Dave Beck Jr., Beck's son; Fred Verscheuren Sr., a Teamster auditor, and Joseph McEvoy, husband of Beck's niece.

Committee Chairman John L. McClellan has described Verscheuren as a key figure in Beck's tangled finances. The other three have been described as playing important roles in several companies that have had business dealings with the union.

Lawyer Takes Witness Stand

The break in the search for the witnesses came amid these other developments:

—Beck met with a five-man committee from the Teamsters executive board to discuss the defense he will use at a hearing next Monday on whether he should be suspended as a member of the AFL-CIO Executive Council. The Teamsters board has charged that the AFL-CIO council would act unconstitutionally if it ousted Beck.

—The Senate Rackets Committee, continuing its investigation of Beck and his union, called a Washington lawyer this afternoon for questioning on whether the Teamsters eased up on truckers who lent money to Beck.

The lawyer—Alfons Landa—was called to shed more light on Beck's complex financial operations. Landa figured in the committee's testimony Monday.

The committee also summoned A. M. Burke, head of the mortgage loan department for Occidental Insurance Co. in Los Angeles, and George Newell, insurance broker for the Western Conference of Teamsters.

Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy said Newell's testimony would deal more with Western Teamster chief Frank Brewster.

U. S. Discussing New 'Open Skies' Program

WASHINGTON (UP) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said today the United States may propose to Russia an "open skies" aerial inspection plan covering Siberia and Alaska.

In discussing the possibility of Siberia and Alaska as a limited disarmament test area, Dulles said this is the kind of area that might provide launching sites in an atomic war.

Dulles dd not rule out the possibility that a test disarmament inspection zone might also be worked out in part of Europe. But he told a news conference that the problems there are much greater because they involve German unification, other political problems and extremely calculated areas.

Many Proposals

Dulles emphasized that the United States has not yet reached an agreed government position on the aerial inspection zones it will propose in further negotiations with the Soviet Union in London. He said those talks have been considering a whole host of proposals and may now be at the stage where it is advisable for U.S. Disarmament Negotiator Harold E. Stassen to return to Washington for consultations.

Dulles said that the Russians at long last seem to have agreed with the United States that aerial inspection is essential in getting disarmament going. He said the question now is: In what zones should the test area be started.

Dulles said if progress can be made on this essential element of the disarmament problem he believes relaxation of fears will be achieved. From there, he said, it is almost inevitable that arms reductions will result.

Dulles emphasized that the United States does not intend to accept any disarmament arrangement based on the partition of Germany.

He also said the United States will consult with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer on any proposal involving the future of Germany.

Woman Held as Chief Suspect In Area Slaying

Monongahela police yesterday arrested 75-year-old Mrs. Lena Trappin, of 125 E. Main St., Monongahela, on a murder charge in connection with the May 2 slaying of a neighbor, Guiseppe (Joseph) Mancuso, 65.

Mrs. Trappin is also charged with accessory before the fact and accessory after the fact, according to information presented yesterday afternoon before Alderman Byron Coleman, of Monongahela.

Coleman ordered her committed to Washington County jail pending a preliminary hearing tentatively set for Thursday night.

Mancuso, a shoemaker who lived at 123 E. Main St., was found dead in a lot near his shop. A man's brown belt was looped about his neck. The right side of his face was bruised.

Mrs. Trappin was arrested yesterday afternoon at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Lena Botta, of Pittsburgh.

Police are withholding other details until after Thursday's hearing.

Mrs. Trappin "had nothing to say" following her arrest. Chief of Police William Urban stated.

Gas Utility Mails Refunds

PITTSBURGH (UP) — Manufacturers Light and Heat Co. today began sending refunds ranging from as low as 45 cents to $1.80 to its more than 230,000 Western Pennsylvania customers for the 15 months period from Sept. 1, 1954 to Nov. 30, 1955.

The refunds result from a Pennsylvania Superior Court ruling which reduced a rate increase awarded by the Public Utility Commission. The refunds will total about $400,000.

Still another refund to Manufacturers customers is pending. That one stems from another court-ordered reduction in a PUC-granted rate increase covering the period Jan. 20, 1956 through May 20, 1957.

Fires on Vessels

TOKYO (UP)—The Communist military command in North Korea charged Monday that United States naval vessels fired on fishing vessels in North Korean territorial waters and seized seven fishermen April 27.

Four Canonsburg Area Men Believed Drowned

ERIE, Pa. (UP) — Authorities dragged Lake Erie off Conneaut, Ohio, today for the bodies of four Pennsylvania sportsmen believed drowned during a weekend fishing trip.

The dragging operations were ordered after a more than 24 hours search of the area failed to determine the whereabouts of John W. Trum, 26, John Sklarski, 35, and Lester Pierce, 36, all of Canonsburg, and Stanley Vulcer, 36, Lawrence (Washington County).

The search of the fog shrouded lake began Sunday when a 16-foot cabin cruiser owned by Trump was found partly submerged about one mile off shore. Only two feet of the bow was showing when fisherman Clarence Seline, Conneaut, Ohio, saw it and informed the Coast Guard.

The Coast Guard said the craft was not severely damaged and may have become entangled in commercial fishing nets in the area.

A Coast Guard spokesman said waves on the lake ran 8 to 10 feet high Friday night and Saturday morning when the four were believed to have begun their fishing excursion.

The spokesman said it was possible that a large wave capsized the boat, throwing the men into the water. He said a later wave could have righted the craft.

State police said several witnesses recalled seeing the four in the area of the Merriman Boat Livery at Lake City, Pa., where the boat was moored, and at least one reported seeing it putting out with the four men aboard.

Police said they left their homes south of Pittsburgh either late Friday night or early Saturday. They apparently drove to Lake City in Trump's car, which was found parked near the boat livery.

The families of the four missing men said they often fished on the boat. They said Vulcer and Sklarski were married to sisters of Trump.

Ike Is Alarmed At Cuts

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower told Republican legislative leaders today he "would not want to assume responsibility for the security of the country" if Congress cuts funds for missiles and aircraft.

The President made this observation at his regular weekly White House meeting with GOP congressional leaders.

House Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. told newsmen after the 90-minute meeting that the President expressed alarm at reports that a House military appropriations subcommittee has made cuts in the Defense Department's missiles and aircraft program.

Martin said the President expressed himself at today's meeting strongly against any cuts in the missiles - aircraft program. Martin quoted him as saying he "would not want to assume responsibility for the security of the country" if such cuts are made.

Knowland Agrees

Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland said he agreed completely with the President on this subject. Knowland called the missiles and aircraft program "our greatest guarantee of peace." He said aggressors started World War II and the Korean conflict because "they thought we were too weak to strike back."

The President will try to enlist public support for his embattled $71,800,000,000 spending budget in a nationwide TV-radio speech. It will be carried live over four radio and one TV (NBC) network at 9 p.m., e.d.t., and by film over the two other TV networks (CBS and ABC) at 11:15 p.m., e.d.t.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Monday night the President is "going to straighten out a lot of misinformation kicking around on the budget and mutual security." The speech will be Eisenhower's first nationwide appeal for support of one of his budgets.

Much of his own party already was against him in the budget debate. But Sen. Clifford P. Case (R-N.J.) was lining up administration backers in the Senate to assert support for the President to be indicated by Senate speeches Wednesday and perhaps later this week.

The battle of the budget also resulted in these other developments:

—The House prepared to begin debate this afternoon on its $3,692,889,757 agricultural appropriation bill, which emerged from committee $272,556,860 below the amount requested by the administration. It was doubted that any attempt would be made to erase the committee-approved reductions. In fact, some Congressmen sought deeper ones.

—The Senate Monday passed and returned to the House, for acceptance of a minor amendment, the first of the regular appropriation bills to go through that chamber this year. The bill carried $3,965,291,000 for the Treasury and Post Office Departments for the fiscal year beginning July 1. This figure, exactly the same as the House approved, was $80,364,000 below what the administration asked. The cut was expected to result in a reduction in postal service in fiscal 1958.

Library Assn. in Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Monessen Civic Library Association will be held in the Library building on Fifth St. at 5 p.m. today. Directors will be elected to serve during the ensuing year. The membership meeting will be followed by an organization meeting of the new board.

All members of the association have been urged to attend the meeting or be represented by proxy.

Flash Flood Slams Small Texas Town

LAMPASS, Tex. (UP) — Soldiers, National Guardsmen and state police stood guard in this town of 7,700 persons Monday night to prevent looting in the wake of a flash flood.

Most of Texas' treacherous rivers and creeks were back within their banks today but the clean-up job in Lampasas had just begun.

Four persons were drowned in the sheer wall of water that hurtled from Sulphur Creek and blasted its way across the town, and another was missing and believed drowned.

A blazing sun during the latter part of Monday dried out parts of the town. The creek quickly went back in its banks after disgorging the deadly floodwaters.

Dallas Danger Lessens

In Dallas, it appeared the Trinity River would fall short of a flooding crest and the danger lessened in lowlands of the city.

Waco also appeared past the danger point as the crest moving down the Bosque River into Lake Waco was steady and prolonged instead of a sudden rush of water.

No rain was forecast for either Lampasas or Dallas today.

Rivers still overflowed into lowlands in places, especially around their mouths in the Gulf of Mexico.

Lampasas, 80 miles southwest of Waco in central Texas, was the hardest hit city since the floods laid siege to Texas April 19.

A preliminary survey by city officials and the Red Cross tallied 38 homes destroyed, 46 badly damaged and 226 slightly damaged. Five commercial buildings were destroyed, 40 heavily damaged and 41 slightly damaged. Highway Patrol Capt. E.K. Browning said damage would run from $1,500,000 to $2,000,000. Mayor R. L. Nortnington fixed it at $2,500,000.

Houses today were still strewn over streets and highways and automobiles lay on their sides and tops and under trailers where the flood pitched them.

About 250 persons were evacuated in Dallas, the third flood for the city in three weeks. Police were prepared to evacuate another 2,100 should the Trinity reach 39 feet but the U.S. Corps of Engineers said it appeared it would fall short of that mark.

Bus Driver to Face Charges in Deaths of Four

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (UP)—The driver of a Greyhound bus today faced court action on a second-degree manslaughter charge growing out of a collision near here which took the lives of four members of a Blairsville, Pa., family.

The charges were filed against Edward Bukosky, 30, Castle Shannon, Pa., Monday by the Ohio Highway Patrol which indicated the bus was traveling at high speed when it rammed into the rear of the victims' station wagon late Sunday night on the Ohio Turnpike.

Killed in the crash were Murray Lockhard Sr., 45, his wife, Mary Jane, 42, their son, James 14, and their daughter, Lizabeth Jane, 12.

Only surviving member of the family was another son, Murray Jr., 17, who remained at home in order to work as a theater usher Saturday night when the family went to Mansfield, Ohio, to visit Mrs. Lockard's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Cameron.

Witnesses said the Lockard station wagon burst into a "flaming mass when its tank exploded." They said the bus pushed the blazing vehicle about 800 feet down the Highway before the station wagon crashed to the side of the road.

The badly burned bodies were freed from the scared wreckage after rescuers worked for nearly three hours. The 33 passengers in the bus were shaken up, but uninjured.

To Take Bids On Road Jobs

HARRISBURG (UP)—The state Highways Department will receive bids June 7 on these road improvement projects in western Pennsylvania:

Butler County—Widening and resurfacing 2.27 miles of Traffic Route 78 in and southwest of Shippery Rock.

Fayette County—Widening and resurfacing 2.22 miles of Traffic Route 121 north of Cheat Haven.

Warren County—Widening and resurfacing of 1.68 miles of U.S. Route 6 east of the Erie-Warren County line.

Washington County—Resurfacing of 4.45 miles of U.S. 19 and Traffic Route 980 northwest of Washington and Canonsburg. Also resurfacing of 3.91 miles of Traffic Route 18 in Burgettstown and from Donaldsons Crossroads northeast.

House Bills to Revamp Housing Codes in State

HARRISBURG (UP)—The General Assembly has received a legislative package to authorize the state's townships, boroughs and the 47 third class cities to enact a sweeping housing code.

The House bills would permit the local governments to set up the code spelling out minimum standards for all types of dwellings, enforcement procedure, penalties and machinery for appeals.

The communities would be empowered to establish and enforce minimum standards covering wiring, heat, sewage, living conditions and maintenance among others. The bills were sponsored Monday by Reps. Stephen McCann (D-Greene) and Robert Wheeler Jr. (D-Fayette).

Pennsylvania's three largest cities, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Scranton, were not included in the legislation because they already have housing codes and authorities.

The Assembly also received a proposal to require municipalities to compensate property owners for loss suffered as the result of zoning changes.

A bill sponsored by state Sen. George N. Wade (R-Cumberland) would require the zoning authority to make payment to the property owner or a lease holder "for the full amount of damage incurred by loss of use of the building structure or land" affected by a new zoning ordinance.

Campaign Briefs —

Aspirant for School Director Defines Aims

A "pay-as-you-go, debt-free school system" is being advocated by Anthony J. Todaro, candidate for a Democratic nomination for school director in Monessen.

In a letter mailed to voters Todaro, a businessman, also said he favored "well-paid and happy administrators, teachers and custodian" and "well-disciplined, cooperative students".

Todaro said that "by eliminating 'frills' and unnecessary expenditures we can pay school personnel more reasonable salaries comparable to industry."

Protest Showing

A showing of "The Monessen Story", campaign film produced by Mayor Hugo J. Parente's City Hall slate of candidates, originally scheduled tonight before the Monessen Junior Women's Club, was suddenly cancelled today.

No announcement was made of the schedules showing, it was learned, but when members of the club heard about it, there was an immediate protest. The club is a non-political civic group.

Parente supporters claim the picture is non-partisan and have offered it to the Chamber of Commerce for use after the election.

Some Offers for Wheeling Race Track Received

WHEELING, W.Va. (UP) Offers ranging up to $2,200.000 already have been received for Wheeling Downs race track, which goes under the auctioneer's hammer June 12 to satisfy income tax claims against owner William G. Lias.

U.S. District Judge Harry E. Watkins, in ordering Lias' holdings sold to satisfy a $3,285,632 tax deficiency, stipulated that bidding must start at $1,800,000.

The court-ordered minimum bid ruled out a $1,500,000 offer Lias said he had received from John B. Kelly, Philadelphia contractor and father of Princess Grace Kelly Rainer of Monaco.

Lias said other offers received so far include: Murray Realty Co., Philadelphia $1,800,000; Maurice Malakoff, Philadelphia, $1,600.000 cash and $550,000 within five years, and Albert Sprung, New York agent, $2,200,000.

Of the amount realized from the sale of the Wheeling Island track, 60 per cent will go towards satisfying the government's claim against Lias for back taxes and penalties and the remainder will be paid to Lias' family.

The U.S. Supreme Court recently ended Lias' long legal battle against the tax assessment when it refused to review the judgment entered by the U.S. Court of Tax Appeals. Lias' attorneys made no objection to the said order entered against the race track.

Judge Watkins said the successful bidder in the auction must deposit a certified check for $100.000 immediately and pay the balance in cash within 10 days.

Area Dairymen to 'Wait and See' In Milk Dispute

Monessen district dairymen have adopted a "wait and see" attitude as negotiations were resumed in Pittsburgh today in an effort to avert a threatened strike of employes of dairies serving Westmoreland County and 10 other counties in Western Pennsylvania.

Members of Local 205, Milk and Ice Cream Salesmen, Drivers and Dairy Plant Employes Union, rejected Monday night a two-year contract offer made by the Greater Pittsburgh Milk Dealers Assn. by a 1,912 to 779 vote.

The members also empowered local officials to call a strike if negotiations fail to produce a satisfactory contract to replace a five-year agreement which expired May 1.

The union rejected as unsatisfactory undisclosed pay increases offered by the association in a pact which included a three-year pension and welfare agreement.

A strike would directly affect residents in Allegheny, Butler, Greene, Washington, Lawrence, Beaver, Fayette, Armstrong, Indiana, Mercer and Westmoreland Counties. In addition, it would hit farmers within a 250-mile radius of Pittsburgh who ship milk to the 65 members of the association.

Preventive Medicine

LOS ANGELES (UP)—William J. Fox, a beekeeper, brought suit for $5,225 Sunday against county agriculture inspectors who didn't mind his "bees-ness." Fox charged the inspectors came to look for bee diseases but left hives unlocked, exposed the insects to cold temperatures and smashed queen bees.

Fined for Gambling

GREENSBURG, Pa. (UP) — John C. Schweinburg, Hempfield Twp. tavern operator, was fined $25 today on a gambling charge. A state trooper said he found punchboards in Schweinburg's establishment last March 6.

Macmillan Under Fire Again

Vote of Confidence Is Sought

By UNITED PRESS

Britain and Egypt moved today along the slow and twisting path toward full restoration of their pre-Suez relations, but the move brought open rebellion in the British Conservative Party and a new Labor attempt to bring down the government of Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

The Laborites asked for a vote of confidence Thursday on Britain's newest "capitulation" to Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser and hoped the Conservative Party revolt would help them force new parliamentary elections.

Diplomatic sources in Cairo said current economic negotiations between Egypt and Britain would open the way later for restoring full diplomatic relations but they said the process would be a lengthy one. The two nations began economic talks in Rome during the next two weeks.

Wants Frozed Funds

Egyptian sources hoped the first step would be the thawing out of 280 million dollars in pounds sterling frozen by Britain at start of the Suez crisis. Egypt will now get some of those funds in British canal tolls.

The British decision to use the Suez Canal on Egypt's terms brought reports from Jerusalem that Israel would try to send a cargo through the canal in a chartered ship to test Egypt's blockade at the first opportunity.

But Israeli sources said the nation would hold up its plans to send an Israeli - owned vessel through the canal until U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold tries to soften the Egyptian attitude. Israel has warned Egyptian attempts to halt the ship would be taken as an "act of war."

Israel did not make it clear what it would do if the Egyptians stopped its cargo. Current plans call for the cargo to be shipped to Haifa from East Africa aboard the Danish vessel Jens Toft which would be chartered to Israel. The test ship will try it later.

AMONG 15 KILLED — Driver of the road race car which crashed up with 15 fatalities in Italy was Alfonso de Portago (above), 28-year-old millionaire Spanish nobleman. De Portago, his co-driver, Eddie Nelson of Beloit, Wis., and five children were among those killed. Acress Linda Christian had given him a good luck kiss at start of the annual race.

Beck

than with Beck. Brewster was a principal target of the committee's March hearings.

Beck himself will be recalled Wednesday or Thursday when the committee hopes to conclude the current series of hearings, Kennedy said. So far, Beck has pleaded the Fifth Amendment 150 times to avoid answering committee questions.

The committee scheduled Landa as a witness after taking testimony Monday on a $200,000 loan made by trucking interests to Beck. Trailer manufacturer Roy Fruehauf and trucking executive B. M. Seymour said they knew of no subsequent deal which removed Teamster pickets from certain of Seymour's trucks and those of certain other truckers.

Questions tossed at Fruehauf and Seymour were based on a series of memos which purport to have been signed by Arthur D. Condon who, like Landa, is associated with the law firm headed by former Sen. Millard E. Tydings (D-Md.). The firm until recently represented Beck and Condon assisted him in his testimony before the committee in March.

Condon, at the time of the memos, was a member of an independent advisory committee advising the trucking industry. Fruehauf and Seymour also were members.

Strike Deal Charged

Landa was marked in for copies of the memos. One of them dated Aug. 11, 1955 said New England truckers were circulating a letter criticizing Beck, Fruehauf and Seymour on the ground that a truckers strike was settled as a result of a "deal" which they engineered.

Landa's name popped up at the outset of the hearing Monday when Fruehauf said the attorney represented him when he sought — and received — a $1,500,000 loan from the Teamsters to fight off an attempt by a "raider" to gain control of the Fruehauf company in a proxy fight.

Fruehauf said Landa offered to share with Beck the profit that Landa could have made by purchasing 40 per cent of the Fruehauf stock from the Roy Fruehauf Foundation—the fund which actually got the $1,500,000. Beck, Fruehauf said, rejected that idea.

Insurance Agents Combine Forces

The Mentzer & Sinchak Agency, of 614-616 Donner Ave., has merged with the Anthony M. Persico Insurance Co. to form the Union Realty Co., it was announced today.

The merger is effective immediately.

Persico had been conducting his agency from an office in his home at 1409 Rostraver St., Monessen.

The new firm will have offices in the Duquesne Hotel Building at 614-616 Donner Ave.

M. J. Monios and Regina Feryok will be part-time agents of the new company.

Five Children Burned to Death

TORONTO (UP)—Five children were burned to death today in a fire that destroyed an apartment in a converted stone building.

Their widowed mother, Mrs. Margaret Wilkinson, was burned critically before firemen were able to rescue her.

The five victims were Robert Wilkinson, 8; Maureen, 7; Mark, 6, Teddy, 3; and Michael, 2.

Jeannette Man Fined in County

GREENSBURG, Pa. (UP) — John Horne, 23, Jeannette, was fined $25 today for furnishing two quarts of beer to two boys, aged 13 and 15.

Horne pleaded guilty to contributing to the delinquency of minors. In addition to the fine, he was placed on probation for two years.

Siamese Twins to Undergo Surgery

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (UP) — The Freeman Siamese twins, James and John, born April 26, will undergo surgery within two weeks, a four-doctor medical team at North Side Hospital announced today.

The physicians said the twin boys will be separated if the exploratory surgery shows that their bile ducts are not joined. That is the only question remaining.

Earlier examinations showed the brothers joined at the abdomen shared no vital organs.

Israel Readies 'Test Ship' to Travel Suez

JERUSALEM (UP) — Israel readied a Suez Canal "test ship" today and informed sources said it could enter the controversial waterway at "any moment."

The sources said the only thing holding up the Israeli test of Egypt's blockade was French reluctance to fall in line with other maritime nations who have given their shippers permission to use the canal.

"But talks on this matter are now being completed which will probably enable the Israeli government to go ahead at any moment," the sources said.

At the same time Israeli officials enforced security measures reminiscent of the clampdown on news during the recent Gulf of Aqaba emergency.

Foreign Office Spokesman Moshe Leshem denied he "ever told" any foreign newsmen that an Israeli test ship was due to sail through the canal. But Western sources believed this was one of the topics discussed when U.S. Ambassador Edward Lawson met Premier David Ben-Gurion and Foreign Minister Golda Meir here Monday.

Two Small Boys Admit Church Fire

CHICAGO (UP) — Two small boys, one of whom said his ambition was to be a bank robber, have admitted setting a $500,000 fire that destroyed St. Paul's Episcopal Church on Chicago's South Side, police said today.

Authorities said the boys, aged 9 and 12, also admitted Monday scores of other arsons, burglaries, robberies and the theft of a U.S. mail truck.

The boys told authorities they soaked the St. Paul Church's fire hose system with paint thinner to start the blaze March 16, 1956. They also admitted setting two fires last fall at the Corpus Christi Roman Catholic Church.

Court Again Barring Unreasonable Searches

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Supreme Court has again underscored the Constitution's ban on "unreasonable searches and seizures" in an individual's home.

Appeals citing this basic guarantee find their way onto the courts docket every term.

Sometimes they are filed by petty criminals. Sometimes they involve famous names like that of government gal Judith Coplon tried twice of espionage in 1949. Her New York conviction was reversed by an appeals court because, among other things, FBI agents arrested her without a warrant. The Supreme Court denied review.

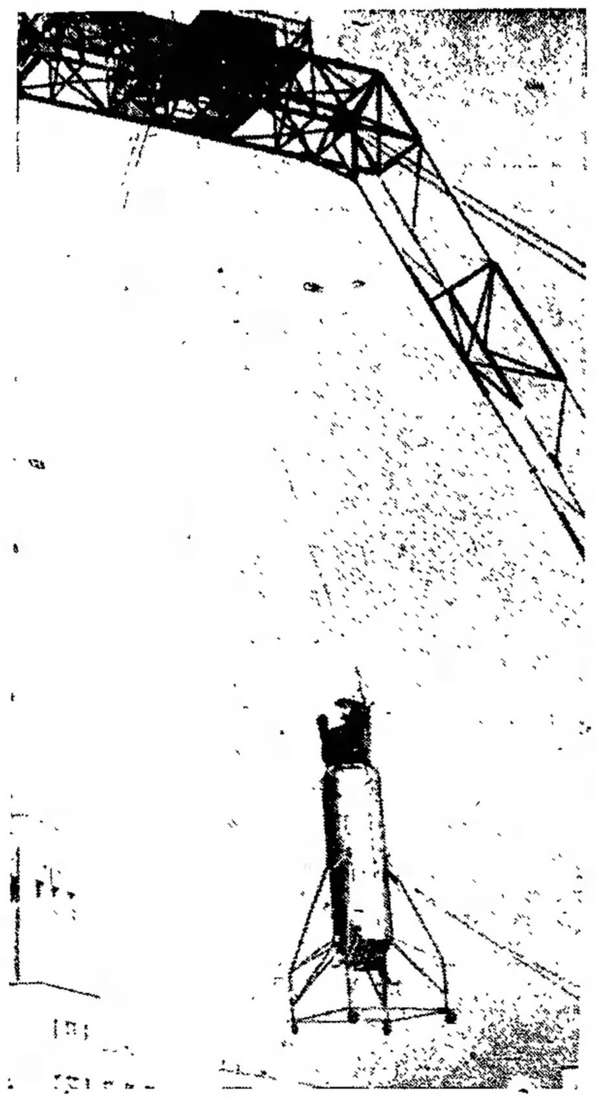
The Constitution's Fourth Amendment speaares "the right of the people... in their persons, houses, papers and their effects against unreasonable searches and seizures."

The court Monday in a [illegible] 6-2 opinion reversed the conviction of the head of whose California mountain cabin Communist leader Robert G. Thompson was found after he jumped bail in 1950.

FBI agents seized without a warrant the entire contents of the cabin and took it to San Francisco for examination.

The court said such conduct "is beyond the sanction of all of our cases." The conviction, it said, "must therefore be reversed, with instructions to grant a new [illegible]."

The [illegible] in the majority decision are Mrs. Sadie Brenner, Supreme Irving Coleman and Sadie Steinberg. The government described Coleman and Steinberg as "long-time associates" who at approximately the same time had offices in the building which [illegible]. Federal building hours are from 8:30 a. m. to 5 p. m. [illegible] New York.



IT'LL FLY, THEY SAY — It's France's Atar Volant P-2, dubbed the "Flying Stovepipe" and described as the "most revolutionary of all aircraft." Here it is being tested in Paris with use of cables and a crane, in case of accident. The craft has a single jet engine, and is mounted on a series of shock absorbers. It takes off and lands vertically and is expected to exceed speed of sound.

Psychiatrists Testify In Doctor's Defense

LEWISTOWN, Pa. (UP) — Further testimony by psychiatrists was expected today to bolster the defense case in the murder trial of Dr. Samuel L. Woodhouse, 52, Milroy physician accused of the rifle slaying of his foster daughter nearly four years ago.

Three psychiatric physicians testified Monday in Mifflin County Court that Woodhouse was insane when he killed Elizabeth L. Woodhouse, 16, while she slept in her bedroom on Aug. 6, 1953. Defense counsel Paul E. Fetterolf said he would ask acquittal on the grounds of insanity.

Dr. Hamlin C. Eaton, Harrisburg Hospital superintendent and a member of the lunacy commission which examined Woodhouse following the crime, testified the physician was insane at the time.

Dr. Baldwin W. Keyes, Philadelphia psychiatrist and neuropsychiatric specialist, said Woodhouse had the "fixed idea that he and his daughter were going to deteriorate mentally" and planned to destroy the girl and himself on that basis.

Dr. Harry R. Draper, Philadelphia, testified Woodhouse suffered from an "involutional psychosis" and was not responsible for the events on the day of the crime.

Stick to Testimony

The trio was unshaken under cross examination by District Attorney R. Lee Ziegler. Ziegler told the court and jury at the outset of the trial he would press for a conviction of first degree murder and ask the death penalty on grounds the slaying was premeditated.

Earlier, Mrs. Helen E. Woodhouse testified her husband struck her about a year before the shooting. Under questioning by Ziegler she also said their foster daughter "wasn't that unhappy that the doctor had to take her life."

Mrs. Woodhouse had testified previously that her husband told her he shot the girl because "she was unhappy and making you unhappy." Investigators said Woodhouse told them he had planned the crime for about one year and intended to commit suicide after the slaying.

Judge Paul S. Lehman ruled out two pieces of evidence during Monday proceedings. One was the results of a lie detector test given Woodhouse on Feb. 2, 1954. The second was the final report of the lunacy commission which sent the physician first to Farview State Hospital and then to Harrisburg State Hospital, where he was recently released as cured.

Because of his political battle, Mayor Parente and his wife had to decline an invitation from Gov. and Mrs. George M. Leader to attend a reception at the executive mansion tonight for members of the General Assembly.

Crowd Gets Wet

John R. Stieska, mayoralty candidate, hopes he has more luck against Parente than he had with the weather last Saturday afternoon. Stieska was all set to deliver a talk at an outdoor rally when a heavy cloudburst scattered the crowd and broke up the meeting.

Gold Bullion Is Found Under Water

MANILA (UP) — An American scientist has discovered gold bullion worth 50 million dollars in waters off the Southern Bongao Island, the Philippines News Service reported.

The P.N.S., quoting what it termed "authoritauve sources," said Prof. Horace Palmer, an American, found the sunken treasure while he was studying marine life in the seas off the island.

According to the sources, the treasure was found in a Japanese hospital ship sunk by American planes during World War II.

GOP Sets Timetable For Introduction of Appropriation Bills

HARRISBURG (UP)—Republican legislative leaders today set up a timetable which calls for introduction Thursday of some 35 general appropriation bills to cover the GOP's $1,500,000,000 budget and final adjournment of the Assembly June 8.

House Speaker W. Stuart Helm (R-Armstrong) said the appropriation measures will probably be ready for introduction May 16 although the key lawmakers will have to work late to have them in final form by that time.

At the same time Senate Majority Leader Rowland B. Mahany (R-Crawford) said a resolution will be introduced in the Senate fixing June 8 as the date for final adjournment.

Original plans called for submission of the Republican fiscal blueprint, which reportedly will be 100 million dollars less than that outlined by Gov. George M. Leader, to a general session of Republican House and Senate lawmakers today. But now it has been decided that the appropriation measures will be submitted to separate GOP caucuses of the two chambers.

The GOP leadership favors the Thursday date for introduction of the general appropriation bills for two reasons. It will give citizens time to study the GOP budget since the General Assembly will not meet Monday and Tuesday of next week.

And it will allow sufficient time to have the bills, including the massive General Appropriation Bill, printed and distributed.

Into the ashcan went the GOP leadership's original plans to end the sessions by May 31 or June 1. Even the June 8 final adjournment target will depend to a great extent on how fast the appropriation bills are moved through the twin chambers.

Meanwhile, there was no indication that any substantial portion of the administration's program will be enacted during the final weeks of the session. This despite Leader's plea for non-partisan support for his higher education program.

Monday's action, with one exception, was confined to minor legislation. But the Republicans in the Senate pushed through to the governor's desk a bill which would exempt non-residents from payment of the 1½ per cent Philadelphia wage tax. The vote, which followed party lines, was 27-18 with five Democratic senators absent.

The GOP leadership beat down amendments which would have made the exemption of non-residents applicable to any community levying a wage tax.

However GOP members offered to sponsor separate legislation of this type but refused to hold up the specific Philadelphia exemption bill.

During debate on the measure Sen. G. Robert Watkins (R-Delaware) termed the Philadelphia wage levy "a malicious tax, hated by everybody."

"We love the City of Brotherly Love," Watkins said, "but we don't love to pay its taxes."

Philadelphia Democratic senators contended that should the bill be enacted it will cost Philadelphia 14 million dollars a year in tax revenues. Philadelphia Mayor Richardson Dilworth has indicated he will ask Leader to veto the measure on the grounds it would be ruinous to the city's finances.

Jet Disintegrated By Lightning Hit

GAINSBOROUGH, England (UP)—A Royal Air Force Vampire jet plane was disintegrated by lightning while flying over Gainsborough during a thunderstorm Monday.

Parts of the plane were scattered about the town. The body of the pilot plunged through the roof of a new house.

TESTIMONIAL FOR EX-STATE POLICE MAJOR — A capacity crowd attended a testimonial dinner last night at Twin Coaches for Greensburg Mayor Andrew J. Hudock, who retired as a State Police major last February after 40 years service. Shown with Hudock, third from left, are William D. Copeland, Westmoreland County judge; Jacob Mauk, ex-deputy commissioner, State Police; Edward G. Bauer, another county judge; David Olbum, Pittsburgh councilman who delivered the main address, and John M. O'Connell, also a county judge. Guests from throughout the state were present.

McKeesport Mayor Is Freed in Tax Lien

PITTSBURGH (UP) — Mayor Andrew J. Jakomas of McKeesport was freed Monday of charges of violating the Third Class City Code by voting in council to settle tax liens on property he owned.

Judge Clarence B. Nixon tossed out the case after less than three hours of argument in a non-jury trial. He said he was "satisfied there is no case here."

Jakomas, who is seeking the Democratic nomination for re-election in next Tuesday's primary, maintained he did not know he was voting on a resolution that affected him. The Third Class City Act prohibits municipal officials from balloting on measures which deal with their personal interests.

Attorney James P McArdle maintained the charge was brought against Jakomas to cause political embarrassment. He used the same argument in requesting a non-jury trial which Judge Nixon granted over the objections of Asst. Dist. Atty. William C. Smith.

Judge Nixon indicated he dismissed the case because of an agreement between Jakomas and contractor Thomas G. Tyson who built a $16,000 home for the mayor on a lot at Myrtle Ave. and Hartman St.

Under the agreement, Tyson testified, he was to pay any liens on the property. McArdle argued the agreement made it impossible for Jakomas to be affected financially by a resolution to settle the tax liens on the property.

Others who testified at the trial were Theresa Stashko, McKeesport city clerk; Irene Atwater, McKeesport Solicitor A. J. Rosenbleet's secretary, and Democratic Councilman Harry Helmstadter.

Helmstadter said he was not present when the resolution was voted upon. If he had been he said he would not have permitted Jakomas to vote.

Miss Atwater denied she warned Jakomas not to vote on the resolution. She testified she told the mayor "things like this could cause trouble for him in the hands of political enemies."

The city clerk said Jakomas showed no interest in the resolution when it was presented for its first and second readings. However, she added, he requested the final reading be postponed a week but gave no reason for his request.

U. S. May Lift Newsman Ban

WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and news officials are discussing possible admission of a "limited number" of U. S. newsmen to Red China, it was disclosed Monday night.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said on ABC's TV "Press Conference" that Dulles and news officials were discussing whether it would be possible to grant permission to the newsmen to enter Red China "on an experimental basis."

"That would not endanger what we think is the quesuon here," he said.

Dulles has not been willing to permit Americans generally to travel in Red China so long as Chinese Communists hold Americans as "political hostages."

MANCHESTER, England (UP) —Canadian Richard Archer, arrested when a creditor saw him on a television show, started a 12-month jail term today for obtaining goods under false pretenses.

Hagerty Claims Ike Feels the Presence of Abe

WASHINGTON (UP) — Is the White House haunted?

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty Monday night hinted—or did he? —that possibly a ghost or two flourishes in the old mansion despite its recent renovation.

A reporter asked Hagerty on ABC's TV "Press Conference" whether — as an Irishman, of course — he had ever heard or seen anything of ghosts in the White House

"No, I haven't." Hagerty said "But seriously the President has told me more than once that the presence that he feels more than anyone else is Abraham Lincoln when he is in the White House."

Hagerty said, however, President Eisenhower has not heard Lincoln.

The reporter who asked Hagerty the question noted he has read that Queen Wilhelmina of The Netherlands met Lincoln face to face in the White House.

He said he also has read that Mrs. Roosevelt saw ghosts.

Moreover, Mrs. Lincoln herself was reported to have insisted that often at night she heard the ghosts of Andrew Jackson swearing and Thomas Jefferson playing his violin.

And that's not all. She also said (sotto voice) she heard old John Tyler wooing his 20-year old second wife

Large Crowd Pays Tribute To A. J. Hudock

More than 1,000 persons paid tribute to Greensburg Mayor Andrew J. Hudock, retired veteran of 39 years with the state police, at a testimonial dinner last night.

In the principal address, Pittsburgh City Councilman David Olbum called for greater public credit for police officers.

"There are many people like Mayor Hudock who have devoted their lives to public service and did not receive the credit they so richly deserved," Olbum said.

"I say its about time we adopt a different outlook."

Maj. William F. Hoffman, a 42-year veteran in the state police and former commander of the Greensburg barracks, praised Hudock for his "patience, tolerance, humility and integrity."

Among those paying tribute to Hudock were state officials, judges and leaders of both political parties. The Republicans were represented by state Chairman George I. Bloom. State Democratic Chairman Joseph M. Barr sent a telegram of congratulations.

Following his retirement from the state police, Hudock was appointed mayor of Greensburg by the Westmoreland County Court to fill the vacancy resulting from the death of Robert L. Potts. Hudock has announced he will not be a candidate to succeed himself

Man Drowns in Futile Attempt To Save Daughters

ROMNEY, W.Va (UP)—Virgil J. Mongold, 29, Cumberland, Md., drowned late Monday in an unsuccessful effort to save the lives of his two daughters after they waded beyond their depth in the South Branch of the Potomac River at Green Springs, W.Va.

State police said the daughters, Diana Lee, 11, and Sandra Kay, 9 were playing in the river with their aunt, Vada Ann Mallow, 10, when they were carried into deep water.

Mongold and his brother-in-law, Harry Mallow, 22, heard the children's shouts and went to their aid. Mongold and his daughters drowned, but Mallow was able to bring his sister to shore where he revived her by artificial respiration.

Robert Trannells and James J Shrout, Green Springs, recovered the bodies of the three victims within 30 minutes and volunteer firemen from Ft. Ashby and Romney made unsuccessful efforts to revive them.

The mother of the dead children, (Mrs Rosalie Mallow Mongold,) was taken to Cumberland Memorial Hospital for treatment of hysteria. The Mongolds and the Mallows were vacationing at a river cottage at Green Springs.

Methodist Laymen to Hold Seminar Series

The laymen's session of the 132nd annual meeting of the Pittsburgh Conference of Methodist Churches, in Uniontown tomorrow through May 19, will be held at Christ Methodist Church Thursday from 1.30 to 5 p. m.

Following the welcoming address by E. K. Chaffey, Conference lay leader, and a seminar explanation by I. N. Hagan, lay leader of Asbury Methodist Church and conference program chairman, a series of six seminars will be held. Between 250 and 300 churchmen are expected to attend.

The first seminar will be on "Inter-Group Tensions," by Alexander J. Allen and George W. Culvertson Allen is executive director of the Urban League of Pittsburgh. Culbertson is director of the Pittsburgh Commission on Human Relations.

Second seminar — Human Relations in Business and Industry, by A. Hugh Forster and John Gates Ramsey. Forster is director of public relations of the Armstrong Cork Co. Ramsey, for 17 years a steelworker in the Bethlehem mills, is engaged in community relations work for the USW. He is also director of the laymen's movement for a Christian world.

The laymen's banquet will be held at 6 p. m., with I. N. Hagan, Uniontown, presiding, and the lay activities anniversary service at 8 p. m., with E. K Chaffey, of Pittsburgh, presiding.

Life Spans of 150 Years Are Seen by Doctor

CHICAGO (UP)—A noted doctor says man some day may attain a life span of 125 to 150 years.

Dr. Edward L. Bortz, past president of the American Medical Assn., stated this possibility Monday night at a dinner sponsored by the Devereux Foundation, in conjunction with the annual meeting of the American Psychiatric Assn.

Bortz used as evidence the life span of animals, which approximates six times the length of time required for the completion of physical growth

In man, he said, physical maturity is reached at about the age of 25. He said that if the problems of aging tissue can be overcome sufficiently, man could achieve a life span proportionate to that of animals.

Already, Bortz said, there is evidence of a "fantastic future" for mankind in the offing.

"There is already exciting evidence that we are on the verge of the control of arteriosclerosis, cancer and nervous exhaustion," he said.

The club is comprised of 71 students, who will participate in the program.

Cities Can Boost Policemen's Pension

HARRISBURG (UP) — Gov George M. Leader has signed into law legislation to permit third class cities to increase pensions of already-retired policemen

Any increases granted pensioners must be uniform and are at the discretion and recommendations of the custodians of the police pension funds.

The new law also retains the present maximum retirement allowances which are equivalent to half of the current salary of patrolmen of the highest grade

Actor Is Divorced

LONDON (UP — Actor John Loder, former husband of film star Hedy Lamarr, obtained a divorce from his fourth wife Monday on grounds of misconduct.

Macing Charges Against Two Are Dismissed

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Allegheny County Common Pleas Court Judge Samuel A. Weiss has dismissed for lack of evidence macing charges against two former state employes under the Republican administration of Gov. John S. Fine.

Freed were Russell Keiser, Harrisburg one-time assistant manager of the state Workmen's Insurance Fund, and Michael J. Wargovich, McKeesport, former head of the fund's Pittsburgh office. They were accused of conspiring to force state employes to contribute to a GOP campaign fund for the primary elections of 1954.

In throwing out the charges Monday, Weiss said he was puzzled as to "how this case could go through the grand jury." Last week, the judge dismissed similar charges against four other former GOP officials. The defendants were among 15 persons indicted as the result of a special investigation.

In the trial of Keiser and Wargovich, the prosecution called four witnesses, but all testified that political contributions which were solicited were on a "voluntary" basis. They were Ann Dolomovich, Pittsburgh; Ella Bringman, Pittsburgh; Mrs. Dorothea Nowe, Nova Kensington, and Mrs. Ann Godston Pittsburgh

Former Insurance Man Was Dishonest

TOKYO (UP) — The Tokyo district prosecutor's office charged today that the former head of a Japanese insurance firm amassed a fortune in less than five years by reporting fires that never occurred and collecting the insurance payments.

Kozo Sato, 61, was charged with pocketing $277,000 between 1950 and 1955 while he was president of the Nippon Fire and Marine Insurance Co.

ORDINATION — The Rev. E. Paul Bovankovich, son of the Rev. and Mrs. John Bovankovich, former Monessen residents, will be ordained a priest at 10.30 a. m. Sunday at Sts. Cyril & Methodius, Byzantine Catholic Seminary, 3605 Perrysville Ave., Pittsburgh. His father was a former pastor of St Mary's Greek Catholic Church here.

U. S. to Carry Out Nuclear Tests on Schedule

WASHINGTON (UP)—The United States today planned new nuclear tests in Nevada despite a Japanese request to call them off.

However, the United States promised that the tests will be carried out with utmost safety.

In rejecting the Japanese request, the United States noted that Russia has refused to agree to a fool-proof arms control plan. The United States said "history has repeatedly demonstrated that one-sided weakness leads to war."

The U.S. position was outlined Monday night in a note handed the Japanese embassy several hours after the Atomic Energy Commission issued a statement emphasizing that the Nevada tests will produce less radioactive fallout than any domestic test series since 1952

Both the State Department note and the AEC release emphasized that the tests, to which Japan and 46 other nations have been invited to send observers, "will be conducted under the most stringent safety precautions." The tests are scheduled to begin Thursday.

New Tunnel Plan Is Proposed for Summit Mountain on Rt. 40

A new plan for a proposed tunnel through Summit Mountain on U. S. Rt. 40 was revealed to the Fayette County Planning and Zoning Commission last night.

The latest survey calls for a tunnel with a 3-3/4 per cent grade, compared with a previous project providing for a grade of approximately 10 per cent.

The tunnel, 500 feet under the Summit, would start at a point on the west slope of Mt. Summit, known as Turkey's Nest, just above Hopwood, and go through the mountain to emerge near the intersection of Wharton Furnace Rd. and U. S. 40 on the east.

The survey was submitted by a group represented by Attorney Clark W. Martin, of Uniontown.

"The proposed tunnel entrance would not follow the present Rt. 40 on the east slope. Instead of continuing into a valley, the approach on the east slope would keep to the northern side of Rt. 40 and on an almost level stretch to Chalk Hill," the attorney added.

A similar project on the west slope from the proposed entrance at Turkey's Nest would continue west into Hopwood. "The overall grade thus wouldn't exceed 4 per cent," Atty. Martin said.

Atty. Herman M. Buck, chairman of the County Planning and Zoning Commission, pressed Atty. Martin for more details on the tunnel proposal. Maps and specifications were scrutinized by the commission.

A delegation stressing the mountain tunnel conferred in Harrisburg last month with Joseph J. Lawler, state secretary of highways. Atty. Martin said conferences have been set up for the delegation of local and county residents with road officials in Washington and later in the state capitol.

"Fayette County would be able to compete with Johnstown and Cumberland, Md., for Somerset farm trade if such a tunnel were constructed," the spokesman said, adding:

"The entrances and the tunnel proper would call for a splendid highway extending from Chalk Hill to Hopwood with a grade a little more than 3 per cent. Rt. 40 over the mountain today stands as a barrier to the east. The district is well aware of the tragic accidents on Mt. Summit and at Hopwood.

"School bus transportation to Uniontown is increasing monthly. Uniontown state police have been active in keeping the school buses widely separated as they traverse the mountain highway. From a standpoint of students safety alone, the new tunnel would be a worthwhile undertaking, regardless of the cost."

Atty. Martin recalled to the planning commission that the district highways engineer, N. G. Bell has gone on record "as not recommending to the state Highways Dept. the previous tunnel proposals on the predicate they would call for a grade approximating 10 per cent, which authorities hold is entirely too high."

The newly proposed tunnel would be approximately 1-1/8 miles in length. "Our surveys show that only a 3-3/4 percent grade is all that is necessary to go clear through the mountain," Atty. Martin said.

Consider Change In Sales Tax

HARRISBURG (UP)—The Legislature today considered a new proposed amendment to the state 3 per cent sales tax which would exempt all materials used in repairs and construction under contract with any municipal authority.

The bill sponsored by state Sens. Joseph M. Barr (D-Allegheny) and Robert D. Fleming (R-Allegheny) would apply only to contracts entered into prior to March 7. Claims for exemption would be required before June 15 of this year.

The exemption would apply to the sales at retail of all "supplies and materials to be used exclusively in the fulfillment of a contract for the construction repairing or maintenance" with a municipal authority.

Comments on the Judge Candidates

READERS of this space are already aware of the seriousness which we attach to choices of judgeship candidates to be made by the voters of both parties in Westmoreland County at the primaries one week from today. These choices will affect the integrity and competence of our common pleas court for many years to come.

We have already urged that voters who wish to see this important court released from the grip of a political machine which has grossly abused its power withhold their votes next Tuesday from Judge Edward G. Bauer and L. Alexander Sculco. These two men are the candidates of the machine, which is desperately trying to nominate them, knowing that the machine's power will be seriously impaired if they are defeated.

Judge Bauer and Mr. Sculco have both held public office for many years and both have been guilty of serious laxity in failing to suppress organized violations of the law by criminal syndicates. Their records do not entitle them to further honors at the hands of the people.

* * *

THOSE VOTERS who decide to reject Judge Bauer and Mr. Sculco have four other candidates from whom to choose the two to be nominated by each party. The following observations may be helpful to citizens trying to make wise choices.

Joseph M. Loughran — Until recently, Mr. Loughran was the first assistant district attorney under Mr. Sculco. In fact, he served for 12 years in the district attorney's office. When the courthouse machine decided to support Judge Bauer and Mr. Sculco, Mr. Loughran resigned and is running for judge independently. His big problem in this campaign has been to convince independent voters that his split with the machine is due to something deeper than thwarted personal ambition, that his 12 years of service in the machine-controlled district attorney's office did not make him a party to the abuses of which he now complains. But Mr. Loughran is a competent and experienced trial lawyer, and if his political independence is genuine, he would make an able judge.

James L. McWherter — A member of a well known family in Westmoreland County politics, Mr. McWherter's father, Miles, is register of wills, and the late Judge George H. McWherter was his uncle. James McWherter has served in the State Assembly, but his legal experience has been limited. He is only 37 years old and has not yet been admitted to practice before the Superior and Supreme courts of Pennsylvania. Frankly, we doubt that he is professionally ready for a common pleas judgeship.

Avra N. Pershing, Jr. — In our opinion, Mr. Pershing is the outstandingly qualified candidate in the contest. He has enjoyed a large legal practice for many years and is one of the most respected members of the Westmoreland County bar. He achieved wide public notice as the special prosecutor in the Monessen vote fraud cases, a difficult assignment which he handled competently and diligently, securing convictions against six of the seven defendants. Mr. Pershing has been a prominent civic leader and is now serving as chairman of the new Westmoreland County Planning Commission. The voters are fortunate to have a man of this type available for a judgeship, and we hope Mr. Pershing receives a nomination.

Robert H. Rial — Mr. Rial is a young (41) attorney of splendid background, son of a distinguished former state senator. He has been a candidate for public office on other occasions and, while not successful, has acquitted himself well. He made a spectacular showing against Mr. Sculco in their contest for district attorney four years ago, losing by only 700 votes out of 110,000 cast. Many observers believe that, had it not been for the wholesale fraud, Mr. Rial would now be the district attorney. We think he is qualified for a judgeship.

* * *

THE NAMES of all four of these candidates will appear on both the Democratic and Republican voting machines and ballots next Tuesday. It is the intention of the law that judges shall be above partisan politics, so the voters have a complete choice.

We earnestly hope the voters give this matter the most careful consideration. Nothing in government is more important than that we have competent, impartial and independent judges presiding over our courts. Westmoreland County can have judges of that kind if the voters choose wisely in this election.

U. S. Can Get 600,000 New Envoys

By ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Here is a proposal which seems to me to make sense: that the United States Foreign Service abroad be increased by 600,000; at present it is about 10,000, under the direction of the State Department and related civilian agencies.

Mr. Drummond

It won't cost a penny!

I am not talking about increasing the number of public officials. I am talking about increasing the number of "private officials."

There is no doubt that the impression which millions of people around the world have of America is the impression obtained from meeting individual Americans abroad.

Our official Foreign Service representatives are doing a superb job. They can't do it all. Their work needs to be supplemented by a greater awareness of what the private American can do to represent his country to every person he meets everywhere he travels.

We Americans are inveterate travelers to far-away places. Last year the State Department issued 559,066 passports, and in 1957 the number will near or exceed 600,000.

Naturally, most Americans do not give much thought to having a special duty to perform in behalf of all of us when they go abroad — the duty of imaging America to all whose paths they cross.

All Ambassadors

We could use a special reminder, a special ex-officio status, to encourage us to do it well.

Therefore I propose:

That President Eisenhower appoint every citizen preparing to travel to a foreign land "Private Ambassador of the United States" — without salary, without a per diem, without any drain on the federal budget.

That Mr. Eisenhower personally make this appointment in a presidential letter to every recipient of an American passport at the time of its issue.

Such a letter might read as follows (this is a wholly unauthorized draft):

"My dear Fellow-Citizen:

"As President, I am glad that you are preparing to travel abroad. You are carrying a very precious credential — the passport of your country.

"I know you will represent us well. There are many opportunities to do so.

"Because of these opportunities, I am asking you to accept from me a very informal appointment. I ask you to serve me as Private Ambassador of the United States.

"I am asking every citizen who goes abroad to accept the same appointment. There will be about 600,000 of you this year. Together you will have the opportunity to mirror something of America to more people around the world than our official ambassadors can ever reach.

"In the main, our official ambassadors represent the American government to foreign governments.

"You will represent the American people to the people of foreign countries.

No Propaganda

"You may be asked a lot of different kinds of questions. You will know most of the answers. In any event when you say what you deeply believe, you will almost certainly be speaking the sentiments of all of us.

"I offer you no propaganda kit.

"My deep conviction is that what the United States — its people and its government — seeks in the world today is consistent with the peaceful, independent national interests of every country.

"The U. S. is a partner of many, and a friend of every peaceful nation.

"What do we seek? We seek to strengthen the security and independence of every country.

"Do we want anything for ourselves? Yes, we want peace and security for all in order to enjoy peace and security for ourselves.

"Nothing more.

World a neighborhood

"The world is today a single, small neighborhood. We seek nothing from our neighbors and we seek for them nothing but their security and their sovereignty.

"We can in truth tell this to every man and woman on earth.

"You can help do it. I ask you to do so as Private Ambassador of the United States. I hope you will.

"Signed: Dwight D. Eisenhower"

Budget Fight Is GOP Fight

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower has to win two battles when he faces the nation on TV tonight.

No. 1 is the obvious battle of the budget.

No. 2 is the battle which GOP leaders understand much better than Ike — for control of the Republican party.

Mr. Pearson

If Ike loses his round with Congress over foreign aid and the budget, then the "regular Republicans" take over. They know this, and that's one reason they are fighting so hard and why they don't want him to fight hard.

It's also why the palace guard is trying to get Ike to fight hard. They know, and have been telling the President that, if he loses this round, "modern Republicanism" is dead. He can kiss good-bye any idea of remaking the Republican party in his own image.

The White House staff began telling newsmen and congressmen even while the President was in Augusta that he was going to battle for the budget. They may well have done so before fully consulting the President, for at that time he was still being very palsy with the man who first pulled the rug out from under his budget, George Humphrey.

However, the White House staff knew far better than the President that when you lose one big battle on Capitol Hill, the rest of your battles are likely to be lost for the next four years.

Goldy Likes Ike — But

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, most vociferous of the "regular Republicans," telephoned the White House the other day.

"I like Ike," he protested, "but don't let him go on television. The people are not for him on the budget. The reaction will break his heart."

Almost as soon as he hung up, Goldwater began cussing out the man whose heart he didn't want to break.

He talked about 1958 when "we" are going to get control. He pointed to the fact that most of the Republican senators up for re-election in 1958 are conservatives. Only two or three modern Republicans are up for re-election.

"And," he said, looking further ahead, "we're going to capture control with Knowland in 1960."

He referred to the backing which regular Republicans are organizing for Sen. Bill Knowland for President in 1960.

Note — Regular Republicans are already working to replace Knowland when he retires from the Senate next year with conservative Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois as Republican leader. They are determined not to have an Eisenhower Republican as GOP leader of the Senate.

Punch-pulling Advice

When Republican leaders called on Ike for their regular huddle last week they cautioned him not to attack the sincerity of Congress when he appeared on TV. They urged a temperate talk. They didn't use these exact words, but what they really wanted was that Ike make no appeal such as Roosevelt so effectively made over the heads of Congress to force Congress to pass his program.

Obviously they were thinking of the party battle, not the President, when they gave this advice. For the only way Ike can win is to call on the voters to retaliate against congressmen who put dollars ahead of the nation's welfare.

Sherman Adams, who knows what the score is, has been giving just the opposite advice of GOP leaders. But he's had a hard time keeping Ike in line. Ike is not one who likes to tangle with Congress.

He was eloquent, however, at the recent meeting with congressional leaders of both parties. Usually, the President opens these closed-door sessions by making a brief statement, then turning things over to Secretary Dulles.

This time he delivered the longest talk ever given to congressional leaders. Some Democrats called it "spirited," "impassioned." One regular Republican described it as "humdrum — so doggoned monotonous I didn't pay much attention."

No Lunch

Only real controversy was raised by Sen. Dick Russell (D., Ga.), who objected to Ike's proposed $500 million cut in foreign aid as a "paper cut." Russell claimed that foreign aid was not being cut, but simply transferred to the defense budget. He charged that the same military equipment is still being readied for shipment overseas, paid for out of defense funds, not foreign aid funds.

Secretary of Defense Wilson assured Russell that there actually was a cut in military assistance. Wilson's new deputy, Donald Quarles, broke in with a technical explanation to support Wilson. Then Assistant Secretary of Defense Mansfield Sprague joined in trying to satisfy Russell. But Russell made it clear he wasn't satisfied.

The President reiterated that the main reason for the saving was better management.

"Mr. President," replied Russell, "I hope you are able to inculate that idea in the Defense Department. That department could use better management in my opinion."

At the very end Speaker Sam Rayburn remarked:

"Well, Mr. President, I don't see any preparation around here for lunch, so I guess we'll just go."

Eisenhower smiled and dismissed the group.

At the White House—

Ike's Trips Doctor's Idea

By MERRIMAN SMITH

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (UP)— Backstairs at the White House:

President Eisenhower was away from Washington nearly half of the first four months of this year and his doctor, Maj. Gen. Howard McC. Snyder, could not be more pleased.

Snyder turns a definitely chilly shoulder to political critics who would have the President stick closer to his desk. Snyder believes frequent periods of relaxation, even more than rest, constitute the best prescription for the President's continued good health.

A group of 70 Gettysburg lady homemakers went to Washington recently for a visit under the guidance of their county extension home economist. The only neighborly thing to do was drop in at the White House.

Their Gettysburg neighbor, Mrs. Eisenhower, arranged for the ladies to have a specially-conducted tour of the premises. The Adams County women came home all aglow and loaded with things to talk about.

They reported to the Gettysburg Times that among the handsome sights they saw was the beautiful Gold Room of the White House.

And this had members of the White House staff scratching their heads in puzzlement. There is no Gold Room at the White House. There's a Blue Room, a Green Room, and a Red Room, but no Gold Room.

What the ladies probably were referring to was the stately East Room which has a lot of gold in its decor.

Gwen Cafritz, one of Washington's leading hostesses and party givers, has been serving up distinguished groceries to the capital elite for a number of years.

She says there is not any appreciable difference between Democrats and Republicans as dinner guests, and that applies to members of a President's staff, too. Mrs. Cafritz says she really doesn't believe political lines cut deeply into Washington society and that most politicians regard dinner parties as relatively neutral ground.

Budget Director Percival Brundage has been under heavy fire recently from some sections of the Congress for the part he played in drafting the administration's $71,800,000,000 budget.

There have been demands that Eisenhower fire Brundage.

At a recent cabinet meeting, the President looked down the long mahogany table at Brundage who was about to make a presentation on possible budget savings. With a twinkle in his eye, Eisenhower nodded to his budget director and said, "well, I see you're still with us."

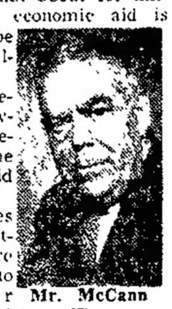
Behind The News—

U. S. to Make Use of 'Titoism' in Cold War

By CHARLES M. MCCANN

The United States seems to have decided to make more use of "Titoism" as a weapon in its cold war with Soviet Russia.

It is known that about 100 million dollars in economic aid is about to be granted to Poland.



Mr. McCann

Now it is reported the government has decided to resume its military aid to Yugoslavia.

Both countries are Communist-ruled. They are pretty likely to remain so for the foreseeable future. The question is whether the United States ought to help any country that has a Communist government.

Certainly it is against United States policy to aid Communism.

But it happens that in the instance of Poland and Yugoslavia, any aid granted to them will not help Soviet Russia. It would be calculated to loosen further the grip of Moscow on all Red-ruled countries.

Won Independence

Poland won a great measure of independence from Russian domination as the result of its revolt of last October.

Yugoslavia broke entirely away from Russian domination in 1948.

The two countries are now liabilities and not assets to Russia. They are proof that Russian rule of other Communist countries can be broken.

Wladyslaw Gomulka, who as Communist Party leader is the real ruler of Poland, and President Tito of Yugoslavia would win no votes at all in a Moscow-conducted popularity contest.

Tito's position is secure. The Soviet government makes occasional motions of friendship toward Tito. But Tito has shown again and again that he has no intention of giving up the least bit of his independence. The Russian motions of friendship invariably are succeeded by outbursts of denunciation when Tito fails to respond.

As has been pointed out, Gomulka's position is still delicate and potentially dangerous.

Pressured by Enemies

The "Stalinist" Communists whom he ousted from power are trying persistently to weaken him. He is being subjected also to strong pressure by other political leaders, and by Poles generally, who want a complete break with Russia.

Gomulka's position has been made more difficult because of Poland's serious economic situation. The weakness of Polish economy is inciting popular unrest. It is helping the "Stalinists," and the Soviet government, because it weakens Gomulka.

President Eisenhower emphasized in talking to congressional leaders in Washington last Thursday that he regards foreign aid as an investment in peace and a weapon in the cold war.

American aid to Poland may mean a great deal in helping Gomulka to preserve the independence he has won.

As regards Yugoslavia, it hardly seems likely that American aid would take President Tito closer to Russia.

The big test is the way Russia will react to American aid to Poland and Yugoslavia. It can hardly be doubted that in either instance the Soviet government will regard it as a hostile act.

The Lighter Side—

Big Recording Star Sticks with Chopin

By DOC QUIGG

NEW YORK (UP)— How do you get to be a big enough star to sell a million record albums? Easy, man.

Dig this gasser with the white hair and the quick grin, daddy-o. He blows a mean piano. Maybe the greatest heard in the world today. He's sold more than a million 50-minute albums in seven years.

What's his secret? Well, all he did was start playing at age 3, give his first concert, for charity, at 5, and during the last half century travel into almost every country for 5,000 to 6,000 formal concerts. Now, at 68, he figures he knows his business.

The man's name is Artur Rubinstein. The remarkable thing about him, aside from the sustained brilliance that makes him one of the world's greatest musical performers, is his bubbling wit and love of the humor of life. His blue eyes dance when he tells a story.

Like the one about his dear friend Lady Asquith, who came to a concert he gave in London, back in 1935.

Planned Encores

"I felt at my best that night," he recalls. "I was doing fine—so well that as I played I was thinking over what encores I'd give 'em. It was a great night, and I figured I'd do four or five encores.

"At the end of my recital there was an enormous outburst of applause. People stood and shouted 'bravo!' I left the stage, returned, took a bow, left again — and then there was silence. The applause stopped. I went out, and the audience was leaving. I was flabbergasted.

"I asked the stage manager what was happening. 'They're going home'," he replied. "Later I found out what had happened.

"Lady Asquith — she always behaved like a queen, anyway— had got up, faced the audience, and said: 'Didn't you get enough for your money? Do you have to torture this artist? Must you have his blood?' Can't you leave him alone?' So they left me alone.

"She laughed about it later when I explained to her that musicians love to give encores. She thought she was doing me a favor."

Rubinstein was interviewed after his recording company, RCA Victor, presented him a gold plaque commemorating the sale of his millionth album. He had played at the White House, at a state affair, the night before. Did the president enjoy his playing?

Recorded In 1899

"He seemed to," Rubinstein replied, eyes twinkling. "I played him some real lively stuff."

Asked when he made his first recording, he sighed and recalled that the year was 1899. "I was 10 years old. I recorded on an Edison cylinder for Professor Engelman of the University of Berlin. I wish I still had that record."

In 1906, at 17, Rubinstein came to the United States for a concert tour, and he's been going ever since, all over the world. Scratching his head, he decided the only countries he hasn't played in are "Tibet, Afghanistan, and a few of the islands."

"I travel live — I have to see the public," he said. "I look at big record sellers like Presley and Bellafonte and then I think to myself that I have one consolation— Beethoven and Chopin are stayers.

Barbara Audio Is Wed to M. Kozar

Barbara Audio, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Audio, of 1234 Highland Ave., became the bride of Michael Kozar on Saturday morning, May 11, at 10:30 o'clock in the St. Mary Greek Catholic Church. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kozar, of 1515 Marion Ave.

The Rev. John Gaspar read the lines of the double ring service before an altar banked with ferns. White crash lined the aisle used by the bridal party and the family pews were marked with white satin bows.

The church choir provided the music with Sophie Evancho as soloist.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and she was attired in a floor length gown styled with a mandarin collar, long pointed sleeves, fitted bodice and full skirt of nylon tulle over layers of net. The Chantilly lace bodice was accented with seed pearls at the neckline. She carried a white covered Prayer Book topped with a white orchid and lily of the valley and her fingertip veil of sheer illussion was held to a headpiece, which matched her gown.

Matron of Honor

Matron of honor was Mrs. Marion Litterini, of Belle Vernon, a cousin of the bride. She wore a gown of pink chiffon over taffeta and net with a matching headband trimmed in matching dotted veiling and rosebuds. Her flowers were a cascade of aqua carnations with pink streamers.

Adela Alvarez, Cassie Relich of Monessen and Dolores Kruki, of Monongahela, friends of the bride, were bridesmaids. They wore gowns of aqua chiffon over taffeta and net styled identical to Mrs. Litterini's with a sweetheart neckline and brief sleeves. The bodice was in soft folds to the dropped waistline, where the full skirt began. Their flowers were pink carnations tied with aqua streamers.

Best man was E. Franklin Docktor, of Pittsburgh, brother-in-law of the bridegroom and the ushers were John Kozar, brother of the groom, Cal Bernardo and Paul Ventura, both of Belle Vernon.

The mother of the bride selected a dress of blue lace with black accessories and yellow tea rose corsage. The bridegroom's mother selected a deep pink brocaded dress with black accessories and a white carnation corsage. The grandmother of the bridegroom, Mrs. Kachmar, wore an orchid print dress with a red rose corsage.

Dinner and Reception

A noon dinner was served at the Polish Falcon Hall for the bridal party and immediate families after the ceremony and in the evening there was a dinner and reception held there for family and friends. The bridal table was centered with a tiered wedding cake.

Later the couple left for a two week trip to Florida. For traveling the bride wore a pink dress with a pink and gray duster and pink and black accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid. When they return the couple will live in a newly furnished apartmeent at 62 Marguerite St., Monessen.

Both young people were graduated from Monessen High School. The bridegroom was also graduated from Western Pennsylvania School of Drafting. He is employed at the local Pittsburgh Steel plant and his bride is employed at Thrift Drug store.

May Queen Named by Group At St. Cajetan

The Children of Mary of St. Cajetan Church held a special meeting on Friday with Mrs. G. L. Trilli in charge. The spiritual director, the Rev. Nunzio Pirulli and Sister De Lilles were also present.

Chosen as May Queen was Elaine Hughes with Lois Greco as maid of honor. In the court will be Vickie DiBuono, Vickie Trilli, Glenna DuJardin, and Carol Ann Amendola.

The crowning will take place on Sunday, May 26, at 3 p. m. and all the members of the Children of Mary will participate along with the children of the first Holy Communion class.

Plans were made for a Mother-Daughter breakfast to be held in the church hall next Sunday following the Communion service and initiation of new members. The mothers and daughters will attend the 9:15 mass.

Chipper Essey Is Honored

The first birthday anniversary of Chipper Essey, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Essey, was observed Sunday with a party at the home of his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Stofka, of Marion Ave.

There were about 25 relatives and friends present for the informal social time that was highlighted by the serving of a buffet luncheon. Centering the table was a large birthday cake decorated by the honored guest's great aunt, Mrs. Norma DeMatteo.

Chipper was presented with many gifts.

Among the guests present were Mrs. George Stofka, Sr., great grandmother of the honored guest and his great grandfather, Jack Nyrhinen.

LOCALS

Girls of Brownie Troop 2 will meet at the City Park tomorrow afternoon at 4:30, weather permitting. They will convene at the main swing and will work on their Mother's Day crafts. Parents are requested to pick up the girls no later than 6:45 and each girl is to bring a nosebag lunch to the session. In case of rain the troop will meet in the Civic Center.

A tea for Democrat women of Monessen will be held tomorrow afternoon at the Slovak Home from 1:30 until 3:30 under the sponsorship of the Democratic committee. There will be a program and refreshments.

The Rev. David Dillon, Jr., of Trinity Episcopal Church and Ray Lear, a member of the vestry are in Pittsburgh today attending the annual Pittsburgh Diocesan convention.

The Isabelle Thoburn Class of the First Methodist Church will meet on Wednesday evening in the church social rooms at 6:30 for a covered dish dinner.

Irene Sovich, of Motheral Ave., is spending two weeks visiting with her brothers in Los Angeles, Cal. and expects to return home on Saturday.

California State Teachers College Senior Ball Set

The Senior Class of California State Teachers College has announced the annual Senior Ball will be held in Herron Hall on Saturday night at 8 o'clock. The theme for the social highlight will be "Parisian Holiday".

Both ballrooms will be utilized by the dancers and Brad Hunt with his 11 piece band will provide the music in the larger ballroom, while Joe Anastasia and his band will play in the smaller room.

Class president, Gene Manetta, has appointed the following committee chairman, Joan Everly, invitations and program; Betty Brown and Pat Lubits, publicity; Janet Treese and Janice Ballenger, refreshments; Mary Ann Cooley and Jerry DuJordan, decorations and Alpha Phi Omega will be in charge of the check room and clean up.

To carry out the motif of the ball, Mr. Manetta announced that there will be replicas of the Eiffel Tower, Arc de Triumphe, side walk cafes with French waiters, the Left Bank, where the French artist display their work and the flower gardens of Paris.

Janice Ballenger, of Irwin, was elected queen to reign over the ball. Those in her court include Betty Brown, of Bethel Park, Anna Mae Wray, of Clinton, Janet Treese, of Pt. Marion and Pat Lubits, of Masontown.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew R. Bednar

Sylvia Elizabeth De Rose Is Bride of Andrew R. Bednar

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Sylvia Elizabeth DeRose, of Monessen, to Andrew R. Bednar. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Octavius DeRose, of 614 McMahon Ave., and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Bednar, of R. D. 1 Fayette City.

Their marriage took place in St. Cajetan R. C. Church on Saturday, May 4, at 9:30 o'clock in the morning. The Rev. Leonard Sanesi read the lines of the service.

The church altar was decorated with white gladiolus and ferns for the double ring ceremony. The aisle used by the bridal party was lined with white crash and white satin bows marked the family pews.

Given by Father

The bride entered the church with her father, who gave her in marriage. She was attired in a floor length gown of white Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over satin. The long pointed sleeves and high neckline accented the fitted bodice and the tiered skirt ended in a train. Irridescent sequins were sprinkled over the bodice along with tiny seed pearls. Her fingertip veil was held to a marionette crown of seed pearls in an orange blossom design and the bridal bouquet was of pink roses centered with a white orchid in a cascade arrangement with satin streamers knotted with lily of the valley.

Maid of honor was Devina DeRose, sister of the bride, who wore a gown of pink nylon and reembroidered organdy in an apron effect. It was styled with a fitted bodice and full skirt and she wore a matching headpiece of pink nylon braid and matching mitts. She carried a cascade arrangement of pink roses with yellow lace and yellow satin streamers.

Bridesmaids were Patty Bisceglia, Carolyn Helzelsouer, Ann Olsavick and Connie Spadafore. They wore gowns styled identical to that worn by the maid of honor. Their headpieces were pink with matching mitts and they carried cascade arrangements of pink roses with mint green lace and streamers.

Flower Girls

Jonni Hunter, niece of the bride and Terry Valosen, niece of the groom, were flower girls. They wore pink gowns of lace and nylon tulle with pink roses in their hair and carried bouquets of pink rosebuds.

Best man was Joseph Bednar, uncle of the bridegroom and the ushers were George Bednar, Denny Swiantek, Andy Teringo and Edward Rathway.

The mother of the bride selected a beige lace dress with white accessories and a pink rose corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a poudre blue brocade ensemble with white accessories and a pink rose corsage.

A wedding dinner for approximately 100 family members and friends was held at Twin Coaches and in the evening there was a reception there for about 1,200 guests.

That night the couple left for a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and Canada. They will make their home in Warren, Ohio. The bride's traveling ensemble was a two piece lilac dress and duster with matching accessories and an orchid corsage.

The new Mrs. Bednar was graduated from Monessen High School and was employed in the office of the Charleroi-Monessen Hospital. Her husband was graduated from Bellmar High School and is employed by Republic Steel in Warren as a machinist apprentice.

Two Librarians Attend Meet in Pleasant Hills

Miss Vivian Drake, librarian at the Monessen Public Library and Mrs. Charles Steele, librarian for the Bellmarette Joint Schools, attended the Southwest District Chapter meeting of the Pennsylvania Library Association at the Pleasant Hills Public Library on Thursday.

It was an all day session beginning with registration at 10 a. m.

The morning session was highlighted by a review of the activities of Allegheny County Library by Kenneth Brown, county librarian and a symposium on "How We Can Utilize Our Resources" with five speakers taking part.

After lunchon at the South Hills Country Club, Mrs. Arthur Wilmurt spoke on "Living With a Prima Donna" and during the afternoon session Keith Doms, assistant director of Carnegie Library, spoke of "Publicity As A Resource".

Banquet Held By Democrat Clubwomen

The annual Mother's Day banquet was held by the Monessen Democrat Women's Club last night at the Slovak Home and covers were laid for 65 members at tables arranged with Spring flowers. Each cover was marked with a pink carnation.

Mrs. Helen Frediana, president, offered the invocation and after dinner awards were made to Mrs. Mary Vignola, the oldest mother present, Mrs. Nellie Philippi, youngest mother and Mrs. Mary Forty, the mother with the most living children. Two guest awards were won by Mrs. Sue Salvino and Mrs. Helen Macko.

Mrs. Helen Toth gave a reading dedicated to all mothers and titled, "What Is A Mother". Mrs. Toth was chairman of the party with Lisa Canova as co-chairman.

A moving picture, "The Monessen Story" was shown and then a business session followed. Routine reports were given by Ann Belan, secretary; Lisa Canova, financial secretary and Helen Toth, treasurer.

The club members were invited to a Democrat tea tomorrow afternoon at the Slovak Home.

Preliminary plans were made for a family picnic on Aug. 12 and for a "bakeless bake sale". Marion Monios will be chairman of the latter project. Donations were voted to the Post Prom party and to the Midget Football League.

Cards and games were played and prizes were won by Wilma Dolinsky and Frances Wojkowski.

Myrna Hamer, Bride-elect of William Carroll

Announcement is being made of the engagement of Myrna Elaine Hamer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hamer, of Fayette City R. D., to William Carroll. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Carroll, of Wampum, formerly of Belle Vernon.

No wedding plans were announced by the couple.

A graduate of Bellmar High School, the bride-elect is employed by the government in Washington, D. C. Her fiance was graduated from Vernon High School and is now employed as a technical writer by the National American Aviation of Columbus, Ohio.

BIRTH

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Van Gorder, of Gary, Ind., their second son, Thomas Edward, May 13, in Gary. Mrs. Van Gorder is the former Nancy Travis and the baby's maternal grandmother is Mrs. Olive Travis, of Monessen.

New Projects at Hospital

The Charleroi-Monessen Hospital Auxiliary met yesterday afternoon in the conference room at the hospital with the president, Mrs. T. C. Montgomery in charge.

Activity reports were heard and plans were discussed for extending the services which the auxiliary members perform for the hospital.

Reports were given by Mrs. Roy Balmer, secretary and Mrs. Lawrence Buchanon, who substituted for the treasurer. There were also reports by Mrs. Henry Giles, baby photo chairman; Mrs. Paul Nicoden, gift cart; Mrs. Harry Fuchs, gift shop hours.

Mrs. Fuchs announced that for the next two weeks it would be necessary to have two women in the shop eeach afternoon. Mrs. Alex Irvine, ways and means chairman, gave a report on the Spring Charity Ball, which was very successful.

Successful Ball

Mrs. Ralph Evans, social chairman, announced that the Spring luncheon will be held June 10, at 1:30 p. m. at the Monongahela Valley Country Club. At this time awards will be presented for 1956.

The president then outlined a new service the auxiliary will perform at the hospital, helping to man the reception desk. There will be a training period for this work.

Another project for the auxiliary was decided upon. The women plan to furnish the third floor solarium, which will then be used for cardiac and long term convalescent patients and when completed it will provide a new service given by the auxiliary members. The committee for this project will be announced.

Mrs. Montgomery presented 50 hour pins to members, who have received higher awards, but never received their 50 hour pins. They were Mrs. Shanor Blythe, Mrs. Henry Giles, Mrs. Paul Argenson, Mrs. Lawrence Buchanon, Mrs. Alex Irvine, Mrs. Walter Spragg, Mrs. Sam Crawford, Mrs. Wilbert Myers, Mrs. Wilbur Metcalfe, Mrs. Ernest Compton, Mrs. Leonard Glasgow and Mrs. Melvin Tubin.

After the meeting the women worked on hospital linens and a coffee hour followed with Mrs. Sam Crawford, Mrs. Charlse Reynolds and Mrs. James Sellew as hostesses.

B. P. W. Members Will Convene Wednesday Night

The annual business session for members of the Business and Professional Women's Club will be held tomorrow evening at 6:30 at Johnon's with the president, Catherine Harris, in charge.

Nell Berlin, director of District 3, will be present and speak briefly and the election of officers will highlight the session along with year end reports.

HOW TO PACK MONEY

No, lady, NOT in a suitcase. It's so much simpler to use a checkbook. No matter where you go—to Jodphur, Jonestown or just down the line—your money is yours when you want it—yet it's safe when you don't. A lost checkbook can be replaced easily, but cash lost is usually cash gone forever.

So don't tote your money. Pack it, in a checking account. To open one, see us. The convenience and security it will give you is very large indeed.

Some Question About Weiss Winner

Some letters have reached this desk, questioning the selection of Maurice Mathieu as the 1957 Weiss Award winner . . . Surely everyone will agree that the Monessen High sports family faced a real challenge when it came to picking a successor to Ron Minnie as Weiss Award recipient. The trophy goes annually to the senior athlete judged best on the basis of sports ability, scholarship, competitive spirit and sportsmanship. Mathieu, the spunky football-basketball player, was the deserving winner. However the voting was extremely close with both Carl Crawley and Frank Crisi receiving support from the coaches and administrators who took part in the balloting. The exact vote count is never revealed but one insider informs that Crawley was just a ballot shy of tying for the honor. In the end, Mathieu was picked for his competitive spirit when the going was toughest. Neither Crawley nor Crisi should feel slighted. They have both left their marks on MHS sports

There's a hot rumor that Big Ten investigators are in the district to check on some offers reportedly made to WPIAL schoolboys. It seems some of the "deals" were in violation of Big Ten rules and officials want to nix things before they develop . . . The publicity office at West Virginia University proudly sends along this item: "Nine of 11 senior basketball players at West Virginia University during Fred Schaus's three-year coaching tenure have graduated or will graduate on time." . . . In other words, basketball players go to West Virginia to study. It's nice to have that fact made clear.

Weir to Be Rostraver Sports Boss

From now on Athletic Director Jim Weir will be "boss" of the Rostraver sports program. His duties were clearly outlined in a resolution adopted last week by the School Board following a hearing into the jacket incident. Henceforth Weir will have firm control of varsity athletics at Rostraver . . . Bob Benke, the fine fullback at Perryopolis, is reportedly headed for the University of Maryland. He's a good one . . . John Stesko, the Monessen member of the Bethany College baseball mound staff, was home over the weekend for a brief visit. He made it plain that he will sign with the Monessen Ozarks in the Mon Valley League once the college campaign ends.

* * *

There's also a story making the rounds that Mike Young has requested a release from Van Voorhis so that he might rejoin his buddies with the Ozarks . . . Mike Panich, the former Charleroi High athlete, is busy these day. He's pitching for both California Teachers and Fayette City in the MVL . . . Mel Renkey, of Belle Vernon, used a seven-iron to stroke a hole-in-one last week at Willowbrook. His ace came on the 156-yard No. 3 hole . . . Dick Gray, former Jefferson High standout, is now playing third base with St. Paul in the Class AAA American Association.

How to Mix Politics and Baseball

How's this for a new wrinkle? Prior to a game in the Fayette County Baseball League last week, all political candidates were invited to make speeches. There was a broad hint that they should hang around for the collection, too! . . . Bucky Grover, former all-around athlete at Brownsville High, has been reassigned to Lafayette, La., in the Class C Evangeline League. He's a pitcher . . . Centerville High's brilliant athlete, Robert (Red) Worrell is still trying to make up his mind on his collegiate future. He's reportedly narrowed his choices to Pitt, North Carolina and West Virginia. Married and the father of a daughter, Red is not making a hasty decision.

Reveal Draft Results In Little League

Forty-two boys were 'drafted' last night by Monessen's eight Little League teams

The youngsters were selected on the basis of their play in three weekend tryout sessions

All boys who played in the Little League last season and who are still eligible will remain the property of their old teams

The "drafted" youngsters will report to their new clubs once practice begins

League secretary George Bova has released this official draft list:

Ozarks Hammer Perryopolis, 9-2

Mitnick Fashions Four-Hitter to Put Team on Top

As long as Bill Mitnick holds out, the Monessen Ozarks will have to be reckoned with in the Mon Valley Baseball League race.

Mitnick, a gangling right-hander, made that clear last night as he pitched the Ozarks into undisputed possession of first place by stopping Perryopolis, 9-2, at Ninth Street Park.

It was the fourth straight win for the Ozarks and Mitnick has appeared in every one of them, gaining credit for the decision on three occasions.

This time, Bill pitched a four-hitter. He fanned ten and walked just one

Bob Mastracci and Ron Danko, Monessen's big guns, kept blasting with timely homers Mastracci, who is off to his finest start, drove in three runs to pad his mushrooming RBI total.

Havadich Homers

Tommy Havadich, one of the veterans in the Perry lineup, put his team ahead in the first inning with a home run over the right centerfield fence.

In the second the Ozarks came back for two tallies off of starter Don Mains Neil Hill doubled and rambled home on George Stark's two-bagger. Rich Zuraw's grounder was bobbled and Stark scored

In the third, the Ozarks wrapped things up with a five run outburst Ron Danko singled and Tom Rothrerham walked. Then Mastracci followed with his circuit blast

Pappy Johnson kept things going with a double and Stark promptly stroked his second two bagger to score Johnson. Not to be outdone, Zuraw doubled home Stark.

Danko Homers

The final two Ozarks runs came in the fourth. Danko started proceedings with a home run. Rotheram singled and Mel Chickovich got into the act with a screaming triple.

Perry added a tally in the fifth with two outs. Mark Wargo singled and scored when a pop fly by Davis was permitted to fall behind second base

Due to darkness the game was called after six innings. The tussle got a late start because of the California-Monessen high school game and neither team had a chance to warm up

MHS Tennis Team On Top

Cop Sec. 4 Title with Easy Win

Monessen High's undefeated tennis team clinched the Section 4 WPIAL title yesterday in true championship fashion

Coach Antoninette Valentine's boys smashed their only real challenger, California, 5-0, in the season finale at the losers courts

Earlier in the season, the Hounds had been able to handle California by a mere 3-2 margin But it was a different story yesterday.

As usual Joe Kurev, Monessen's top netter, had an easy time slamming Russell Millan, 6-1 and 6-0.

Jim Baker and Ron D'Angelo also won singles victories for the Hounds. Baker took Fred Rummell, 6-1 and 6-3, while D'Angelo bested John Vohar, 1-6, 6-4 and 6-4

Doubles Play

In doubles play, Kurey and Baker romped over Vohar and Rummell, 6-1 and 6-0 while D'Angelo and D'Alessio took Remy and Dubois, 6-3 and 6-4

Following the match Kurev was picked to represent the section in the WPIAL Tournament on Thursday in Mt Lebanon He will team with Baker in doubles competition.

Each section will send its finest singles and doubles stars to the tourney. The winners will take part in the PIAA show at Penn State on May 24 and 25

The Monessen team will next meet Latrobe, Section 3 winner, in semi-final action to determine the WPIAL team finalist The survivor in that match will advance to the championship contest on May 22 Sites are yet to be selected.

Summary for yesterday's match follows:

Monessen 5, California 0

Kurev, M, defeated Millan C, 6-1 and 6-0
Baker, M, defeated Rummell, C, 6-1 and 6-3
D'Angelo, M defeated Vohar, 6-1 6-4 and 6-4

MHS Baseballers Battered by California, 8-0

Monessen High's baseballers reverted back to form yesterday, losing to California, 8-0, at Ninth Street Park.

The setback was the ninth straight suffered by the Hounds in Section 17 play this season. It came on the heels of their finest performance, a 3-2 losing effort in eight innings against undefeated Charleroi last week

Yesterday's game was no contest The Trojans wrapped it up with five runs in the fourth inning Eight Monessen errors helped out

Frank Scrip started on the mound for the visitors and pitched three hitless innings Ron Bilitsky came on in the fourth and preserved the shutout even though he was nicked for three singles.

Scrip and Ken Kulak each had a pair of hits for the winners. One of Kulak's blows was a double

The Trojans put together four hits and two errors to fashion their five run inning in the fourth.

Charleroi Nips Monongahela to Win Section Title

Charleroi High's baseballers clinched the Section 17 title yesterday by nipping Monongahela, 3-2, in eight innings at Van Voorhis.

With two out in the eighth inning, John Lenhart was hit by a ed ball and went to third on Ron Cosner's single. He scored on an overthrow.

The Wildcats jumped to a 1-0 lead in the first inning as George Peters, Fred Cox and Rich Sacane bunched consecutive singles. Charleroi went ahead in the fifth on a walk and triple by Ron Felak. John Thomas promptly singled in Felak

In Monongahela's half of the fifth, Dee Galiffa walked, stole second and scored on an error to tie the game.

Cats Threaten

The Wildcats threatened in their half of the eighth, but Charleroi mound ace Carl Witmyer, who had started the game and then moved to first base, returned to the hill and fanned the last two batters, stranding two men on base

Witmyer, who had won eight straight games from Monongahela yielded winning honors this time to Ron Zelenski

Ed Kikla lost his sixth straight game to the Charleroi even though he fanned 14 and gave up just four hits.

Italian Hall Wins In Softball Opener

To Italian Hall goes the honor of winning the first game of the 1957 City Softball League season.

The IH boys tripped the Myfords, 4-2, last night at City Park behind six hit pitching by Ralph Seykoski.

Johnny Johnson and Gene Quinn paced the winners at bat with two hits apiece.

Italian Hall pushed over all four of its runs in the fifth inning on a walk and four successive singles.

Gene Quinn provided the big blow by singling with the bases loaded to shove in two runs. Ed Galaski's bingle also chased across a couple more

The Myfords tallied singletons in the second and sixth innings The second inning score came on an error, walk and single by Dick Snrader. In the sixth, the losers tallied again on an error, stolen base and single by O'Toole.

Tonight's City League action will send the always-strong Cro-Ams against ULBA at City Park beginning at 6 p m

Pirates Open at Chicago Tonight

CHICAGO (UP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates open a 13-game road trip here today against the Chicago Cubs determined to pull out of last place in the National League.

Before they return to Forbes Field on May 28 the Pirates will meet all their league rivals with the exception of the Brooklyn Dodgers whom they take on in the first three games of a prolonged home stand.

Pottios, Pentz Pick Notre Dame

Myron Pottios and Billy Pentz, Charleroi High's fine football players, will enroll at Notre Dame University next fall.

There never was much doubt that the 6-1, 210 pound Pentz would wind up there.

However Pottios, probably the most - sought gridder in the WPIAL, kept everybody guessing. After looking over more than 50 schools, Myron picked Notre Dame.

Both boys confirmed the selection yesterday with no "ifs, ands or buts."

Scott Hopes to Gain in PRA Races Tonight

Herb Scott is having his troubles trying to repeat as champion driver in the Pittsburgh Racing Association this season

But one track where he still is king is Washington Raceway.

Scott, who won the feature there last week will try to duplicate this Tuesday night. His victory put him out in front in the Washington point standings with 88 followed by Ed Fiola, 67, and Dick Linder, 66

Linder figures the lead would have been his if he hadn't blown a tire early in the feature event last week. And the fans thought Fiola could have been the winner if he had used more gas in a squeeze with Scott on the final turn heading into the home stretch.

They'll get a chance to prove it tonight when the first of nine races gets underway at 8 30 p m. on the fast Arden Downs oval.

The PRA drivers then will run at Heidelberg Thursday night; South Park, Saturday night and Claridge, Sunday night All start at 8 30.

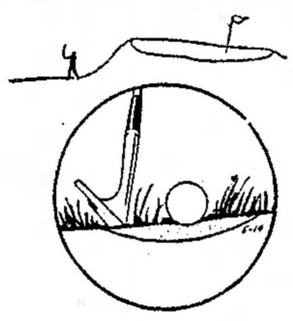
DOCTORING YOUR GOLF

By CARY MIDDLECOFF



Non Sand Explosion

Recently, I had a very gratifying experience: I was able to "give" a man a new golf shot.

He was in soft rough just over the green, with a high bank in front of him. The ball was nestled in a small depression, making it almost impossible to get the clubhead under the ball using normal methods.

"How would you play this one?" he asked.

"Take your wedge," I said. "Swing as hard as you would for an explosion shot from the sand. Let the clubhead enter the ground about two inches behind the ball. Swing on through."

He did as I advised — and the ball rose up and out of the grass and on to the green. It was great!

This method is sometimes the only possible one on a shot from under the bank of the green — when you have a very close lie. When that happens, the conditions are comparable to those of a sand-trap shot.

Tri-County to Open 1957 Season

The newly-formed Tri-County Softball League will begin its 1957 season today.

Opening games will show Lock Four at Charleroi Lee Norse; Naomi at Fairhope Rod-Gun (Marion field); and Fairhope Firemen at Roscoe.

Other teams in the league include Pricedale Hillcrest, Monessen USW, Monongahela Combustion-Engineering and Donora.

Philip Reed Marble Champion

Wins 1957 City-Wide Tourney

Philip Reed has won the city's ninth annual Marble Tournament.

The seventh grade student at Junior High will represent Monessen on Saturday in the VFW district marble competition at Greensburg starting at 2 p. m.

Reed won the right to represent the city by defeating Joe Kerestes of Holy Name School in the title round at Memorial Civic Center.

In semi-final matches staged in recent days, Lloyd Aldrich defeated Robert McFadden, Joe Kerestes topped Terry Huser, Philip Reed defeated Aldrich. That set the stage for the title bout which Reed won.

As usual, the tournament was co-sponsored by the Daily Independent, Department of Recreation and Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 1190.

On to Greensburg

Reed will be accompanied to Greensburg Saturday by runner-up Kerestes, Recreation Board Chairman Stephen Pfeister and tourney director Frederic Feldman.

The winner in the districts tourney will qualify for the state-wide competition.

Reed, who won the Lincoln school title last season before bowing out of the 1956 tourney, succeeds Eugene Ninchak as city champion. Ninchak was too old to compete this season.

Midget League Drive Looks Like a Success

Monessen's Midget Football League campaign for funds from the general public will conclude this week.

Alex Kachmarik, chairman of the project, said that about 1200 $1 tirckets have already been disposed of. That would seem to indicate a successful effort.

However Kachmarik said that a lot of ground was still to be covered.

"We want to give everyone in the community an opportunity to support our Midget League program," he said. "In particular our city businessmen have been overlooked up to this point. We plan to ask their help this week."

Finance Stands

The money from the drive will be used to finance concession stands at Memorial Stadium which the league plans to operate for the next ten years. Revenue from that business should be enough to finance the MFL program without further fund appeals.

Kachmarik disclosed that five city organizations have already made donations: Elks 773, Downtown Firemen, B'nai B'rith, Slovak Ladies Auxiliary and the Evening Women's Club.

The city's industry will also be asked to pitch in and help, Kachmarik disclosed.

Right on Schedule

Acutal work on the concession stand is progressing ahead of schedule, reported Kachmark. Volunteers hope to have all of the concrete blocks in place by the end of the week.

Originally MFL officials had planned to build only one concession stand on the adult side this season. However if the campaign is successful enough, a stand on the student side will also be erected.

It is estimated that it will cost $2.000 to supply building materials and equip each stand.

Bellmar Loses To Donora, 10-6, In Section 17

Freshman Butler Roddy went all the way to pitch Donora to a 10-6 win over Bellmar in Section 17 play yesterday at the winners diamond.

Roddy was tagged for eleven hits, but staggered through the rough spots to win.

Angelo Dabiero and Tim Matsick sparked the Donora attack with two hits each.

For Bellmar, Jim Bitonti had three singles while Larry Petras checked in with a triple.

The Donorans sewed up the game in a hurry by shoving over six runs in the third inning and four more in the fifth.

Vejar Takes on Giambra Tonight

OAKLAND, Calif. (UP) — They like to build up Chico Vejar by tearing him down and the wrecking crew was hard at work today as the solemn middleweight prepared for tonight's bout with favored Joey Giambra.

"Chico will be there-what else can we say?" Sailed Steve Ellis, the fight broadcaster who doubles as Vejar's advisor. "Sure, Chico will be the underdog as usual. Maybe 4-1. Why not? Joey is a head taller than Chico. Joey can hit harder. Poor little Chico! He's so weak we all worry when he gets one in the stomach . . ."

That's fine, men, because this reverse psychology is made to order for the olive-skinned Vejar, who often is at his best when a short ender.

Big League Teams Trim Rosters Before Deadline Midnight Wed.

By UNITED PRESS

A host of players on 10 major league teams today probably felt like a traffic violator waiting for a patrolman to hand him a summons.

Six clubs already have trimmed their rosters to the required 25-player limit, a United Press survey revealed, but 18 more heads will roll before the cutdown deadline at midnight Wednesday.

In the National League, the Cubs, Pirates, Giants and Phillies completed transactions Monday that enabled them to square away their rosters 48 hours ahead of time. The Cardinals still must cut three players, the Braves are two over the limit, while the Dodgers and the Redlegs each have one pink slip to hand out.

The Tigers and the Athletics are the only American League teams not faced with roster - trimming worries. The Senators and the Indians each must cut three players, the White Sox are two over, and the Yankees, Red Sox and Orioles one each.

Senators Beat Bosox

Only one game was played in the majors Monday—the Senators downing the Red Sox, 5-3, in a night game at Boston. This off day enabled some of the clubs to get a jump on the cutdown deadline.

The Giants reached the 25-player limit by dumping four men and purchasing right - handed pitcher Stu Miller from Minneapolis in the American Association. Southpaw John (Windy) McCall was sold to San Francisco of the Pacific Coast League; pitcher Gordon Jones was optioned to Minneapolis, and outfielder Bill Taylor and catcher-infielder Bobby Hofman were released outright to the same club.

The Cubs purchased two infielders — picking up Bobby Morgan from the Phillies and acquiring Jack Littrell from Portland of the PCL. At the same time, first baseman Ed Mickelson and infielder Ed Winceniak were sold to Portland; pitcher Dave Hillman was optioned to the same club, and outfielder Bob Lennon was released to San Diego in the PCL.

Waivers on first baseman Ed Robinson were asked by the Detroit Tigers who will have to release another player by May 25, when second baseman Frank Bolling's national service exemption expires. It is believed another infielder will be sold or traded by then.

The Phillies reached the legal limit when Morgan was sold to the Cubs, while the Pirates did the same by selling southpaw Bob Kuzava to Columbus and optioning catcher Danny Kravitz to the same International League club.

Ted Abernathy allowed only four hits in picking up his first victory of the season at the expense of the Red Sox. Herb Plews collected three hits and knocked in two runs to lead the Washington attack. Ted Williams went hitless in three official at - bats and dropped into second place in the American League batting race with a .403 average.

Fayette City Rips Charleroi, 10-3

Fayette City moved into second place in the Mon Valley League standings last night by blasting visiting Charleroi, 10-3.

Tinse Manown and Jack Russell each had three hits for the victors. Steve Babich homered and doubled for the losers.

Absorbing the loss was Charleroi's mound ace Fred Uhlman.

Frank Valla pitched six hit ball for FC, fanning eight.

Regional Fish Offices Expand Their Services

Services available to the state's fishermen out of the six regional offices established early last year by the Pennsylvania Fish Commission, have been expanded, according to William Voigt, Jr., Executive Director of the Commission.

Reports Voight:

"These offices, which serve as headquarters for the warden supervisors and fisheries managers, are now supplied and prepared to answer most of the requests for information, and special permit inquiries, coming from the counties within their respective regions.

"Prior to this time, these matters were handled at Harrisburg. In the spring of the year, however, our limited staff has been unable to answer the heavy volume of inquiries without some delay.

Speed Up Replies

"Replies will be speeded up even more than at present when it becomes generally known that answers are readily available at the regional offices. Until this knowledge does become more widespread, we are routing inquiries on a number of subjects to the regional offices for reply.

"In many cases, better information can be supplied to inquirers, because our regional and local people are in position to have more complete and up-to-date knowledge of various matters than the Harrisburg office."

Among the matters that can be handled readily by the regional offices are requests in relation to fishing licenses, fishing laws, information on fish and fishing within the region, stream and lake surveys, pollution investigations, bookings for available motion pictures and slide lectures.

Other Items

The regional offices also will handle applications and licenses for nets, fish transportation and resale, and commercial hatchery licenses in all categories.

The regional office serving this area is located at Somerset.

Correspondence should be addressed to the Southwest Regional Office, R. D. 2 Somerset.

Counties served by the regional office will include Allegheny, Armstrong, Blair, Cambria, Fayette, Greene, Indiana, Jefferson, Somerset, and Washington in addition to Westmoreland.

Waterfowl Stranded

"In late April I received several reports of horned grebes alighting in fields and being unable to take off," says Game Protector Shuler, Union County.

"These birds were removed to water, where they were again in their element. Two grebes that came down in Mifflinburg were rescued by Deputy Robert Holman."

Similar reports from other Game Protectors were as follows:

Richard Furry: "On April 9 a resident of Huntingdon called and asked me to pick up a duck apparently injured in the violent rain and windstorm the night before. Having captured this "duck," a male eared grebe, I released it in a protected cove of the Juniata River, in the company of several pied-billed grebes."

Paul Glenny, Gettsburg, reports that during the last week-end in April, dead and live grebes were reported, or picked up and released on water, in his district.

Dense Fog

"Perry County was covered with a dense fog the night of April 17," says Russell Meyer. "Next day a large number of horned grebes and one loon were picked up by Blain residents and others nearby who thought the birds were hurt and couldn't fly. A trip to a nearby pound convinced them the birds, when liberated, were in good shape and able to take wing from water."

But it remained for Game Protector Edward Campbell, Franklin County, to relate the prize grebe story. He says:

"A man using a spinning outfit in fishing for trout in Cowan's Gap Lake, late last month, felt a good strike. When he stopped the running line a grebe broke water and took to the air. At the end of the line the grebe stopped suddenly and returned to the water. You guessed it — the bird, not a trout, had taken the lure. The grebe was carefully retrieved and released, apparently unhurt. But the spinning reel had to be returned to the factory for repairs."

Fur Sales Up

The sale of hunting licenses provides the bulk of the revenue acquired by the Pennsylvania Game Commission and used for wildlife management programs. But other income sources also help increase the agency's working capital. One is the sale, to the highest bidder, of miscellaneous furs.

Recently, the sum of $1,606.75 was deposited in the Game Fund following the sale of 1,103 wild animal skins, seized or otherwise obtained, in the last twelve months by Commission personnel. Itemized, the hide list shows: 704 muskrats; 121 opossums; 30 skunks; 74 beavers; 14 minks; 16 raccoons; 26 bears; 114 deer; 2 otters; and 5 foxes.

Earlier this year 2,681 deer hides collected by Commission men last fall and winter netted the Game Fund $4,714.77 when sold to the highest bidder. These hides were from deer killed illegally, accidentally, or for crop damage in late 1956 and early 1957 and acquired by Game Protectors.

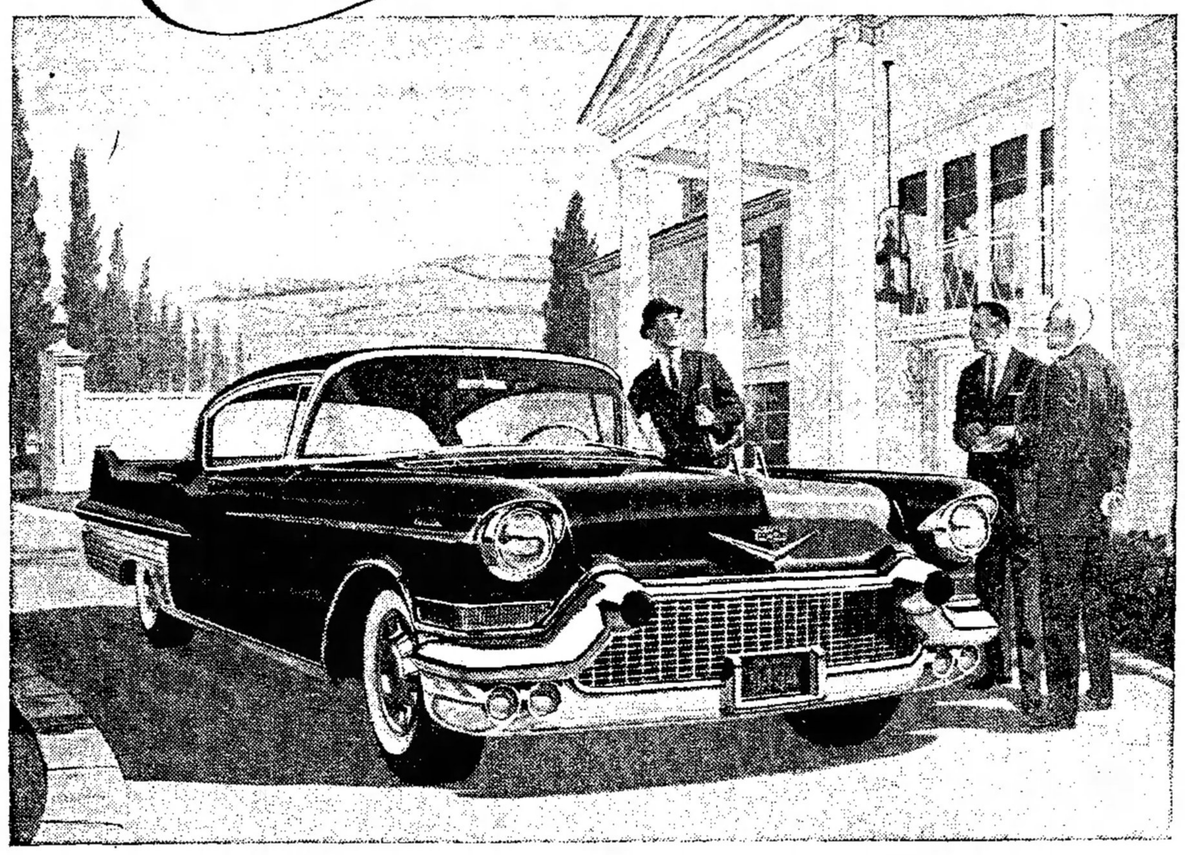
Cadillac



Third-Generation at the Wheel!

"Like father, like son", the poets say.

And never was it truer than in the case of a great many fine Cadillac families.

For there are, in our land today, a number of families that currently boast as many as three generations at the wheel.

We mention this simply to underscore a great and dramatic truth about Cadillac—that, of course, is its unchanging goodness and quality.

For fifty-five years, the Cadillac name has signified one and the same thing to motorists everywhere—a motor car created at the highest level that automotive science would permit.

Over that time, Cadillac has attracted to the ranks of its owners the finest list of names to be found anywhere on the American motoring scene.

And, those who have followed the path to Cadillac in 1957 are enjoying the most abundant blessings of this ceaseless crusade for quality.

The new "car of cars", with coachcraft by Fleetwood, is beautiful and luxurious to an unprecedented degree. And its performance and handling ease are a revelation!

Certainly, the Cadillac car has now become an even wiser investment for an even wider circle of America's motorists.

If you have yet to acquaint yourself with these brilliant Cadillac virtues for 1957, your dealer will be delighted to tell you how easily you can make Cadillac a fine family custom of your own!

Hectic Primary Race Forecast for Donora

Democratic Donora is in for a rousing primary election next Tuesday triggered by the decision of Burgess August Z. Chambon to run for tax collector.

Chambon, who has served two terms as borough chief, will be opposed by three others George Kovalcik, John K. Taylor and Edward Bettunelli.

As a result of Chambon's relinquishment of the burgess' post, two incumbent councilmen and two other Democrats are vying for the burgess nomination.

At the same time, 11 Democrats are seeking nomination for four openings on the borough's seven-member council, including former All-American football star, Arnold Galiffa.

By way of contrast there are no Republican candidates for either burgess or council, although one William C. Jones, filed for the tax collector nomination

The Democratic burgess nomination hopefuls include John Marasovich and Albert P. Delsandro. incumbent councilmen and J Roy Brooks and Ed Tomaseski. Council hopefuls include Galiffa, incumbents Joseph Mouyard and Albert F. Pipik, along with Walter Karol, Steve George, Joseph Verducci, Michael Durki, John A Murray, John Duda Jr Harry W. Steck and Thomas R Neill.

Subs Sighted Off Canada's Coast

HALIFAX, N.S. (UP)—At least four unidentified submarines have been sighted off Canada's east coast in less than a month. The Canadian Navy is not overlooking the possibility that the mysterious undersea craft might be Russian.

The latest report came Monday from the Placentia Bay area where Mr. and Mrs. John Slade of Spencer's Cove reported seeing a submarine near their home early Monday morning. They said the sub lay in the mouth of the harbor, 50 yards from shore, for half an hour before submerging.

Saturday, the St. John's (Nfld.) Telegram quoted two of five men who reported seeing a mysterious submarine last Thursday. Gerald McCarthy and Russell Sheppard, both of Harbor Grace, said they watched the craft as it surfaced, maneuvered about the tricky harbor entrance on the west side of Conception Bay and then submerged.

Two fishermen saw a surfaced sub near New Harbor Island in mid-April and their report was investigated by U.S. planes. Another report came May 2 from Fairhaven, 18 miles northeast of Placentia.

The Royal Canadian Navy, which often investigates the reports in conjunction with the U.S. Navy and Air Force, is reluctant to discuss what it has found or what it thinks about the reports. But a Navy spokesman at St. John's said Monday night the possibility that some of the subs might be Russian was not being overlooked.

Searches that follow reports of sightings indicate that the unidentified craft are not American.

Seven Years of Planning Went Into Graham's N. Y. Crusade

(The last of two dispatches previewing Billy Graham's New York crusade.)

By ROBERT E. JACKSON

NEW YORK (UP) — Seven years of planning, a full year of staff work and a budget of nearly a million dollars have gone into Billy Graham's New York crusade.

To insure against failure, little has been left to chance.

Graham waited seven years from his initial, startling success in Los Angeles to make his grand appearance in New York.

"He waited until he was invited," an aide said. The invitation came from New York Protestants in 1955 while Billy was in Stuttgart, Germany.

Then the Billy Graham Evangelistic Assn. of Minneapolis swung into action with a business-like bustle which would be the envy of any corporation.

Has 10,000 Volunteers

Everything about the New York crusade is big. Thirty-five full-time assistants with specialties like publicity and hospitality and more than 10,000 volunteers are working alongside Graham.

A pool of 2,000 ushers has been created, a choir of 4,000 voices trained. Four thousand "counsellors" are standing by to receive those who come forward. So far in 44 crusades on three continents, Graham has spoken to 20.7 millions persons and swayed 548,350 persons to make this "Decision for Christ." "Follow-up" teams will work for six months to channel the converts into the church of their choice.

In New York a distinguished group of publishers, bank presidents and executives and 1,470 Protestant churches are sponsoring Graham.

In India this week, natives in 250 churches are praying for New York. In 52 nations, 1,842 groups and more than 300,000 "individual prayer partners" are making New York "the most prayed-for city in the world."

In crusade headquarters, where words like "transform your life for God" echo above the beehive clatter of typewriters, telephones and mimeograph machines, a map of America is dotted with red pins pointing to 3,046 groups praying for Billy, his crusade and New York.

Signs Distributed

Two hundred and fifty thousand prayer cards have been run off. Signs proclaiming, "On Our Way to Hear Billy Graham" are blossoming around town. The printers have readied 150,000 car bumper stickers which say in orange on a black background, "Now! Hear Billy Graham. Madison Square Garden 7:30 p.m." A special information bulletin already has a circulation of 150,000.

Always assuring a crowd, one third of the Garden's 20,000 seats will be reserved nightly for special groups from New York churches and for groups which will sweep into New York from all over the nation and Canada to combine vacations with another chance to hear Billy.

They will come in trainloads of up to 800 from Louisville, Buffalo, Nashville, Detroit, Washington, Philadelphia, Oklahoma City, Houston, Toronto and elsewhere.

The $900,000 budget calls for $360,000 for Garden rental, $255,000 for advertising and publicity, $105,000 for office operation. Graham draws a $15,000 annual salary from the Minneapolis Association. The New York crusade will be paid for with contributions already in from Richmond and Louisville and individual donors. Other funds will come from contributions from individuals, foundations and corporations, and nightly offerings.

Catholics Oppose Him

For the first time since the Graham comet flashed across the American scene, his crusade faces the announced opposition of Roman Catholics. In addition to a widely-publicized article warning that Graham's preaching was a "danger" to the Catholic faith, the Catholic Archdiocese of New York prescribed a series of nine sermons on Catholic doctrine.

Rabbi William Rosenbluth of Temple Israel told Jews he had no fear if they chose to hear Graham either out of "natural curiosity" or "decent desire."

Spokesmen of all faiths have expressed the wish that someone in their own ranks would rise to show the zeal and powers of persuasion of evangelist Graham.

Billy has a seven-word answer to the inevitable question—how to explain his phenomenal appeal? "The only explanation I know," he says, "is God."

In all fairness of this game of politics, I, as a candidate, generally do not knock another candidate. But in reading the political ad of Mr. McNaughton's on May 8, 1957, I must say the following:

One should look into a MIRROR before he starts to criticise his opponent, and ask himself these QUESTIONS: Are you QUALIFIED? Are you also able to AUDIT ACCOUNTS? Now will Mr. McNaughton answer these questions and be able to STATE his QUALIFICATIONS to the PUBLIC.

Therefore to you the people who elect a CANDIDATE to Public office: THINK before you cast your VOTE on Election Day. DO you want a candidate who is Qualified and Capable? Then DO the following on ELECTION DAY:

Can Use Buses to Transport Spectators

HARRISBURG (UP) — Gov. George M. Leader has signed legislation to permit school buses to transport student spectators to school athletic events.

The bill amends the state Public Utility Law to exclude from the definition of a common carrier buses owned by or operated under contract with school districts and private and parochial schools. The new law thus permits the use of school buses for the transportation of pupils to and from extra curricular activities, as well as participants in the events.

Good Samaritan Class In Mother's Day Program

The Good Samaritan Sunday School class of Christ Evangelical Lutheran Church met in the parish house Friday evening for the regular monthly meeting.

Lois Murdock was in charge of devotions, using as her theme, things pertaining to Mother's Day.

A hymn opened the devotions followed by the scripture reading by Geraldine Monath. A special prayer by the leader, the Lord's Prayer, a Mother's Day Story by Lois Murdock, and a poem by Mrs. Sophia Rieser completed the program. Mrs. Charlotte Taylor was accompanist.

The business session was conducted by the class president, Mrs. Thelma Medsger. Several reports were given, followed by a discussion of the Sunday School convention banquet which the class will serve on Saturday, June 8.

The class voted to hold its annual Christmas banquet on Friday, Dec. 6 in the private dining room at the Village Inn. Reservations were made for this affair which will be discussed at greater length at the next meeting.

A letter was read from former Pastor Nicholas and his sister.

The game committee for this month was comprised of Geraldine Monath and Mrs. Evelyn Antoszyk. Lunch was served to the 23 members present by Mrs. Mary Ann Brinker, Mrs. Dorothy Lux and Mrs. Ethel Tully.

Attend Retreat

A counselor's retreat was held at Camp Lutherlyn last Friday and Saturday. Those attending from West Newton were: Mr. and Mrs. Harold Crossland, Mrs. Kenneth Striker and Gene Lenk.

Conquest of Omine

TOKYO (UP) — Men will not be able to escape womens' voices even atop 5,160-foot Mt. Omine, forbidden to women for over 1,300 years, it was disclosed today. A new telephone has been installed linking the foot of the mountain with the peak. Postal officials ruled that women will be able to talk to Buddhist monks at the top even though females may not defile the summit in person.

In the winter, during icy weather Seneca street is the only passable, connecting link between the downtown section of Monessen and Grand Boulevard. Why hasn't the present Mayor paved this street?

It is also common knowlege that the sewer in Seneca Hollow is grossly inadequate. A leader with any foresight would have seen the need for a larger sewer there. Instead, in addition to the original cost, we now must face the cost of tearing it up and building an adequate sewer. MORE USELESS SPENDING!

1957 Buick Century Gives You That Comfortable, Easy Ride

Try the "Git" of the Buick Century, a dream car to drive. Mon Valley Motors, Inc., 252 East Donner avenue, Buick sales and service, invites you.

If you're one who goes for spirited performance, you'll find the vivacious 1957 Buick Century speaks a language all your own.

Because this year, we wanted to bring you even finer performance. Engineered a brand-new V8 engine with the "power-pack" built right in, at no extra cost — and teamed it up with a new version of Variable Pitch Dynaflow that's instant in response.

Get behind the wheel and you'll understand why we say this 1957 Buick is the dream car to drive.

You sit there with 300 horses at your beck and call, complete control at your finger tips, and the surety of powerful new brakes at your toe touch.

You smooth your way over hills that seem to lose their tops.

You ride relaxed and composed — in creature comfort and supreme command.

But the Century — like all 1957 Buicks — speaks also of fresh new styling — the look you like, the longer you look. And of new luxury — inside and out. New stretch-out roominess — new solid torque-tube steadiness of travel. New buoyancy of ride, and a glorious new ease of handling.

Come let this magnificent new Buick do its own talking. You'll find it sweet listening — right down to the price-talk.

New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century — optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Dudas Has Super Blue Sunoco Gas To Pep Up Cars

Here now, at the Dudas Sunoco Service station, 532 Schoonmaker avenue in Monessen, is the first of Sunoco's new fuels of the future—Super Blue Sunoco 240. It's a great new super-premium for the newest high-compression cars.

A whole new system of tailored motor fuels is on its way from Sunoco — and this is the first higher octane companion to the famous premium quality Blue Sunoco you've always known. This is now the time to give it a try!

It's here. Super-Premium Blue Sunoco 240. Made to order for the newest high-compression engines. There isn't a car on the road today that could ask for anything more!

Blue Sunoco 240 is just the first step in preparation for Sunoco's new Fuels of the Future — the first and only multi-grade system of motor fuels custom-blended at the pump to the exact octane needs of your car to give you maximum performance at lowest possible cost.

If you have one of the newest high-compression cars, try new Super-Premium Blue Sunoco. Order it by number — 240 — the way you will be ordering all of Sunoco's Fuels of the Future when this revolutionary new custom-blending system is complete.

Famous premium quality Blue Sunoco now known as Blue Sunoco 200.

The same famous premium motor fuel that has made the name Blue Sunoco the symbol of America's greatest motor fuel value is still obtainable from every Sunoco dealer. It has the highest octane rating in its history. 9 out of 10 cars on the road today will never need anything finer. But it still sells at regular gas price. The only difference is that now it is known as Blue Sunoco 200.

Remember — only at your Sunoco dealer will you find the Fuels of the Future. Two are here today... Blue Sunoco 200 and Blue Sunoco 240... more are on the way!

Haury Pharmacy Has Gifts for Those Graduates

Well, here it is again, those two graduation months of May and June for many high school and college students.

And it is fitting and proper they should receive some token of appreciation for the long years spent in classrooms, studying to get that coveted "sheepskin".

Haury's Pharmacy, corner of Oneida and Schoonmaker, a home-owned drug store in Monessen, has a number of suggestions that will cost you very little and will serve the purpose quite well. For instance, if she's a girl how about cosmetics? Or a compact? Every girl could use those or toilet goods and would really delight in your thoughtfulness. Or stationery, or a fountain pen, or pen and pencil set — Haury's has quite a few very inexpensive gifts that the young girl grad would like and could use to advantage.

For the boy graduate, here again the pen or pencil or the combination would be nice. Or a new safety razor, stationery, a pipe if he smokes, a humidor of tobacco, a lighter, etc.

Haury's Pharmacy also fills prescriptions with a registered pharmacist on duty at all times. You'll like dealing with this home-owned Monessen drug store, where service is good and prices reasonable.

John Says:

I once forgot to take the hose nozzle out of a customer's gas tank, but he didn't tow it very far. I also forgot to put in the gas!

Jamestown Landing Observed

JAMESTOWN, Va. (UP) — The roll of 17th Century drums and the roar of 20th Century jets combined Monday to mark the 350th anniversary of the landing at Jamestown.

The English settlers who landed May 13, 1607 formed the first permanent settlement in the new world.

Some of the nation's top dignitaries were on hand, including Vice President Nixon, Assistant Secretary of State Walter Robertson, Assistant Secretary for Air Dudley Sharp, TAC (Tactical Air Command) Commander Gen. O.P. Weyland, Virginia Gov. Thomas B. Stanley and U.S. Sen. Harry P. Byrd (D-Va.).

But despite the great show of brass, the nearly 3,500 spectators who thronged the mall of the ultra-modern, multi - million dollar festival park expressed their greatest interest in actors dressed in ancient costumes and the latest in Air Force jets.

The Air Force stole the show. A public address system was rigged up so the spectators could hear first - hand the conversation between Col. Carlos Talbott, leader of a jet flight, and a ground communications crew here.

The three jets, which less than eight hours before had taken off at London Airport 4,500 miles away, swept overhead at nearly tree-top level.

Weyland said that three other F100 Supersabres continued on to Los Angeles, where they set a new record for non-stop jet fighter flight by staying in the air for 6,710 miles. They were refueled in the air en route.

Would Revise State Motor Vehicle Code

HARRISBURG (UP)—A resolution to set in motion possible revision of the state vehicle code to modernize any outdated provisions was before the General Assembly today.

A Republican sponsored resolution was introduced in the House Monday to have the Joint State Government Commission survey the 28-year-old motor vehicle code. The commission, the Assembly's research arm, would report its findings and recommendations to the 1959 Legislature.

The resolution said the code was "in many instances obsolete and badly in need of revision." It followed recommendations advanced here last month at a traffic court conference that the code was in need of an overhaul to keep up with modern times. The measure was sponsored by Reps. Evelyn G. Henzel and John A. Lafore Jr., both Montgomery County Republicans.

Rev. J. W. Shell Prayer Leader At Joint Services

The Community Service committee of Webster met Friday evening in the Presbyterian Church with the Rev. John W. Shell opening the meeting with prayer. Elmer Gillingham was temporary chairman.

A program committee, composed of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hamilton, Pete Cupples and Kathryn Jugan, will meet Friday, May 24, at 7:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Hamilton to discuss programs for the remainder of May and June.

Charley Ritchie has been asked to retain his office as treasurer. John Jugan and Gillingham were appointed to complete the mailing list. Also present were Mr. and Mrs. John Jugan, Florence Lynn, Muriel Kriston, Will Maurer and Dora Ritchie.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Morovich and son, Jeffrey, of Brentwood, spent the weekend with Mrs. Morovich's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hamilton, of Fellsburg.

The annual conference of the Methodist Church will be held in Uniontown starting tomorrow. Mrs. Hamilton and Mrs. Foulk are delegates from Webster Methodist Church.

The Women's Club of Fellsburg will meet Wednesday for a regular meeting at 7:30 p. m. An executive meeting will be held at 7 p. m.

Leader Pleads With Educators For Program

HARRISBURG (UP — Gov. George M. Leader has warned the state Legislature that any delay in enacting his higher education program will result in "a hastily-put-together 'crash' program" later.

Speaking at a luncheon meeting of state educators here Monday, the governor said "if we don't set up machinery for solving this problem now, we'll reach the point of no return with none of the vital groundwork laid."

The administration program would establish a system of junior colleges throughout the state to reduce the strain on present post-high school educational facilities, and a state-financed program of scholarships ranging from $200 to $800 annually.

Pricedale Union Has Mother's Day Service

Mother's Day was observed at Pricedale Union Church Sunday with Clarence Bush in charge of devotions. Prayer and scripture reading were offered by the Rev. George Guest.

The congregation and choir sang several hymns, including "A Tribute to Mother" and "Faith of Our Mothers".

Gifts were given to the three oldest mothers, Mrs. Mary Ann Turner, Mrs. Annie Bush and Mrs. Emma Guest. The youngest mother present was Mrs. Mary Lou Lees. Mothers with the most children present were Annie Bush, Blanch Felgar and Nora White.

Son Born

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Kretchen are the parents of a son born on May 5, which was also the date of their first wedding anniversary. The baby, who has been named Stephen Michael, weighed eight pounds, four ounces at birth. The mother is the former Gloria Ann Dayner.

Mrs. Clarence Echart and children, David, Linda, Cathy and Randy, of Sweeney Plan, spent the weekend with Mrs. Echart's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Jenkins, of Finleyville. Mr. Echart spent the weekend on a fishing trip.

The Ladies Adult Class of Pricedale Sunday School will meet Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at the recreation hall with Irene Usher and Janet Rodebaugh as hostesses. Nora White will be topic leader.

Police Raid Is Practical Joke

CHICAGO (UP)—Police crashed into a party in a swank Gold Coast apartment and found not the slot machines they were looking for, but a startled Perle Mesta.

Mrs. Mesta, the famed "hostess with the mostess," was the guest of Mrs. Edmond Faulkner, and was chatting with society women Monday when three husky plain-clothesmen edged into the room and announced, "This is a raid."

"We've had a complaint that you're running a private slot machine club here," the detectives said.

Mrs. Faulkner explained the gathering and the three policemen admitted they had fallen for a practical joke.

Sportsmen's League Blasts Kinzua Dam

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Allegheny County Sportsmen's League has told the House Appropriations Subcommittee on Public Works that a proposed flood control dam at Kinzua in northwestern Pennsylvania would destroy recreation resources of the Allegheny River watershed

William D Henning, director of the league which represents 12,000 members of 75 sportsmen's clubs, also said Monday the dam, 192 miles upstream from Pittsburgh, would be too far from the city to afford much flood protection.

Henning said a series of smaller dams would provide better protection for upstream communities and be much cheaper than the estimated 100 to 125 million dollar cost of the Kinzua Dam.

He said a suggestion made by the Seneca Indian nation for construction of a canal to divert Allegheny River flood waters into Lake Erie "merits additional study" The Indian nation, part of whose reservation would be flooded by the dam's reservoir, made the canal proposal at a hearing last week.

The league director asked the subcommittee to reject a one million dollar budget request for start of construction on the dam until alternatives were studied.

He said the dam's reservoir would be practically useless for water sports and fishing because of "severe fluctuations" in its water level.

Henning said that if the Kinzua Dam had been in existence in 1936 when disasterous floods hit Pittsburgh, the Allegheny River level at the Steel City would have been lowered by only seven inches

Henning also questioned an estimate by the Army Corps of Engineers that the dam would give $503,000 annually in pollution control benefits.

"Since all communities in Pennsylvania are required by law to treat sewage, we fail to see where these benefits would occur," he said

"If it is argued that such pollution is presently being discharged by industry, we wonder if the engineers are now attempting to benefit violators of the Pennsylvania Pure Streams Law."

Arthur Miller on Trial Today

WASHINGTON (UP) — Pulitzer Prize winner Arthur Miller, playwright husband of actress Marilyn Monroe, went on trial in district federal court today for refusing to tell Congress names of authors at Communist meetings he attended in 1939.

Marilyn's press agent said she did not plan to attend.

The curvaceous actress was not in the courtroom March 1 when Miller pleaded innocent to contempt of Congress charges and was released on $1,000 bail.

If convicted, he faces a maximum penalty of two years in prison and $2,000 fine.

The lanky playwright was cited for contempt last July 25 for refusing to tell the House Committee On Un-American Activities the names of persons who attended meetings of Communist writers. A federal grand jury indicted him for contempt Feb. 18

During his appearance before the committee last June, Miller testified freely about his own activities. He admitted attending the meetings but said he was never under Communist Party 'discipline"

But he refused "on grounds of 'conscience' " to identify persons he saw at the meetings.

William Snyder

DEAR VOTERS:

As I enter the final week of my campaign to gain a seat on the Monessen City Council, I wish to take this means to let you as neighbors and friends better understand my position as a candidate.

Monessen has been the home of my parents, Monessen has been my home, and in all probability, Monessen shall be the home of my children. Being an interested citizen with average intelligence, I feel a desire to serve the community, to help in its future planning, and to see that the decisions affecting the lives of all our children be made wisely and properly.

It is essential, in our form of democratic government, that new, young personalities of proper qualifications be injected into the political life of a community. In this way new blood, new ideas, new interest create the healthy needs for really good democracy.

We hear of the great progress that the present members of Council have helped make for the City and it is true that some progress has been made. However, there is still much to be done. In fact when you hear of the projects being planned, and weigh them against what has been accomplished over these past eight years it seems that very little actually has been done.

The Councilman should promote and help progress the town. After all, what's he in office for? It is imperative that with this proposal of new undertakings and bold planning that the new, young, sincere, modern minds be also consulted. Any new debt to the community should be approached with much caution. Our present Council, no doubt, has the connections to get us into these improvements, however, getting out from under them later on may be the real problem. The younger people will have these debts to pay, the younger people should have a say. We must advance, and better Monessen in all ways, but decisions promoting these improvements must not be cut and dried decisions.

Having served 3½ years during World War II in the service, I don't feel that I owe a yes or no to anyone or anything at any time until my mind and heart does the dictating.

Sincerely,
WILLIAM SNYDER

Van Zandt for Building Reactors On Small Scale

WASHINGTON (UP) — Rep. James E. Van Zandt (R-Pa.) yesterday proposed a bill to authorize the Atomic Energy Commission to build atomic power reactors on a small scale.

Van Zandt, a member of the House-Senate Atomic Energy Committee, said his bill was a "compromise" in the fight over whether private industry of the federal government should take the lead in developing atomic power.

Van Zandt said that under his bill the AEC's program would be carried out in such a way that it would not conflict with that of private industry.

"We must not be stampeded into a crash program" of large-scale reactor construction by the government. Van Zandt said. "The American system of free enterprises is the best method of getting the job done."

This Year to Be 'Test Year' For Westmoreland Finances

This year will be a "test year" for Westmoreland County finances, the Westmoreland County branch of the Pennsylvania Economy League, said today in its annual report.

Although Westmoreland showed a surplus in its financial operations for 1956, it could have a difficult time in matching that performance in 1957 and more so in 1958, the League said.

Large demands are being made on the county's finances. This year the county is relying a great deal on its substantial cash balance to make up the difference between income and outgo.

In 1956, for the first time in four years, the county's financial operations resulted in a surplus. Income was $174,316 more than expenditures. When the 1956 budget was drafted a deficit of $418,638 was indicated.

Similar Picture

A similar picture is predicted for 1957. A gap between appropriations and estimated receipts amounts to a whopping $594,459.

The League fells that while it appears that anticipated income has been conservatively judged it may not be possible to reduce expenses substantially below appropriations.

New services, higher costs of the regular, traditional services, and additional capital outlays, will raise expenditures somewhat, the League feels.

Where the county can run into trouble will be if the appropriations are spent in full for the coming year. Since it's recognized strategy to over-estimate when the budgets are made up to provide for freedom of spending, the county could be faced with a major problem of drafting a budget in 1958 without having to seek additional funds from taxes.

Demands are bigger for 1957. Capital outlay requests of $294,000 for that period are almost $248,000 higher than such expenditures in 1956 and more than twice as much as the amount in the 1956 budget.

The appropriation not used in 1956 was $92,292 for the proposed county airport. In 1957, the airport appropriation is $166,500 and is likely to be used.

The Planning and Recreation Commissions, new functions in which the county is participating for the first time in 1957, have been granted $15,000 and $5,000 respectively.

Appropriations for wages and salaries are $150,000 higher for 1957 than expenditures in 1956.

Where the unexpected balances for 1956 were $269,000 a saving of half that sum in 1957 will be an accomplishment. There are but $200,000 other than wages and salaries where reductions might be made and one-fourth of that amount is represented by the contingent fund.

There is a bright side of the picture for the county, however. Revenue receipts should be higher than estimates.

Higher Assessments

The real estate assessed valuation used for 1957 computations is $220,000,000 which is $1,500,000 less than the actual 1956 valuation. The actual valuation figure for 1957 should be near $226,000,000.

A similar situation exists in the total of $120,000,000 used for personal property valuations. The 1956 figure was $127,400,000 and the 1957 figure may be higher than that.

Tax receipts should be $100,000 more than estimates and could go much higher if the percentage of collection in prior years holds up. Receipts in 1956 were $119,000 more than the figures in the 1957 budget.

In order to preserve a substantial cash balance, the county will have to be as prudent in its spending as possible, the league warns. It is not necessary to create a large cash balance, but a sufficiently large working balance is desirable. Without ample funds to draw on to finance deficits, it may be necessary to secure additional revenue.

Projects Deficit

The 1957 budget projects a deficit of $207,216. The forecast is a decrease of $45,599 in income and an increase of $209,410 in expenditures. The cash balance would be reduced from $242,344 to $35,218.

Other expenses will be higher than last year because of increased costs. The largest increase, $75,790 is in the appropration for "Inmate Care" which is comprised largely of $30,000 in wages, $14,000 in insurance, $7,000 for provisions, and $20,000 in repairs.

Child care is up almost $12,000, farm expense, $6,600, distribution of surplus foods $5,600 higher, debt service $30,000 more, and capital outlay $12,000 higher. Social security, a new item, takes $6,000.

Leader Studies Liquor Bill

HARRISBURG (UP) — Gov. George M. Leader today studied legislation which would permit holders of state liquor licenses to operate their establishments on standard time in daylight saving time communities.

The bill would allow liquor licensees to chose to operate under standard time, thus permitting their establishments to serve customers from 8 a.m. to 3 a.m. daylight time.

The proposed law, however, would be optional, rather than mandatory, and would be effective immediately upon Leader's signature.

Other legislation to allow the state Liquor Control Board authority to use "discretion" in granting or rejecting liquor establishment licenses was defeated in the General Assembly.

A House bill failed to muster the necessary 106 vote majority Monday and it fell, 102-76. The legislation was strongly backed by the Philadelphia and Pittsburgh delegations to curb so-called "gold coast" sections in their cities.

The bill would have allowed the board to use its discretion in granting new licenses or in the transfer of an existing license when the application conformed with state requirements but was opposed by the neighborhood where the establishment was proposed. The legislation followed a recent court decision which held that the board did not have authority to use discretion in granting applications.

The bill was sponsored by Rep. Maurice H. Goldstein (R-Allegheny). Rep. Anthony J. Petrosky (D-Westmoreland) led the opposition, contending the problem should be handled on the local level through zoning ordinances.

Submarine Nuclear Core Is Replaced

PITTSBURGH (UP)—The nuclear core which produced the atomic power that took the USS Nautilus 60,000 miles has been replaced with an even better one.

Westinghouse Electric Corporation said Sunday the replacement "represents a significant advance" over the original nuclear charge of the atomic submarine.

Both cores were designed and built at the company's Bettis plant near here and installed at the yards of Electric Boat Division, General Dynamics Corporation, at Groton, Conn.

The Bettis plant is operated by Westinghouse for the Atomic Energy Commission.

Mercury sets the pace at 1957 Indianapolis 500-mile race

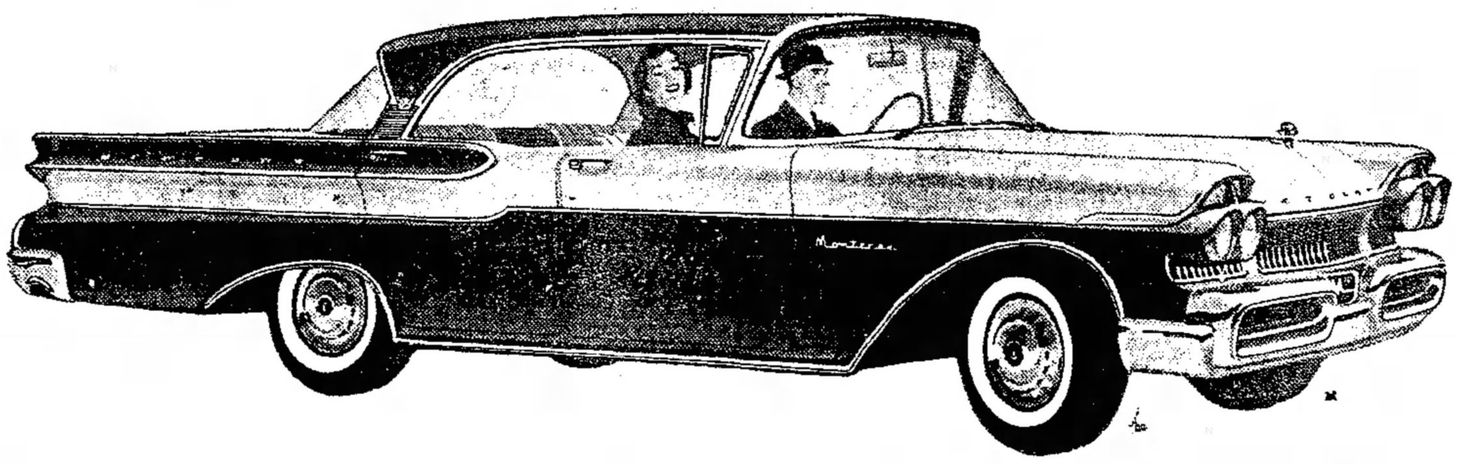
...sets the pace in size and style



sets a record for low-cost luxury

The choice of Mercury to pace the Indianapolis Classic dramatizes the fact that The Big M is the new yardstick of your money's worth.

In size, Mercury brings you the biggest size increase in the industry—more room and comfort in every important dimension.

In styling, only Mercury offers you Dream-Car Design. Here's completely different styling, shared with no other car.

In ride, only Mercury offers you Floating Ride—the most effective combination of bump-smothering features ever put between you and the road.

In performance, Mercury leads with the highest standard compression in its field, highest torque for regular production engines.

Yet never has so much bigness and luxury cost so little! The Big M is priced an easy step above the low-priced three. No wonder Mercury is setting the pace everywhere for style, size, performance, luxury —and value! Why not stop in at our showroom today?

60 Mile Speed Limit Proposed

HARRISBURG (UP)—Legislation to allow automobiles and buses to travel 60 miles per hour on all state highways has been introduced in the General Assembly.

The House legislation in two separate bills would increase the present speed limit for automobiles from 50 to 60 and permit buses to travel 60 miles per hour in zones where it is the maximum limit. At present the "mile a minute" speed is allowed only on some dual lane highways.

The legislation was sponsored Monday by Republican Reps. Wendell H. Miller (Butler), George C. Magee Jr. (Crawford), Orville E. Snare (Huntingdon), Ralph S. Merry (Crawford), Richard L. Adams (Berks) and Harry A. Naugle (Somerset).

Reds Bring Atomic Weapons into Korea; Armistice Violated

By ROBERT MONAHAN

SEOUL (UP) — Intelligence reports show the Communists have brought atomic weapons into North Korea in violation of the Korean armistice agreement.

U. S. military commanders, whose job is to guarantee the security of the South Korean Republic, privately condemn the unbalanced situation here as "militarily unsound."

Some go further in private and call it "stupid." Serious consideration has been given by Army leaders to abrogating paragraph 13-D of the armistice agreement, which forbids the introduction of new and modern equipment into Korea.

Korean President Syngman Rhee told United Press in an interview that the danger of an attack from the north is greater now than any time since the armistice was signed four years ago. He said he would welcome guided missile bases in South Korea.

Factors In Buildup

According to intelligence sources, the Communists have:

—Brought atomic weapons into North Korea and taught their army how to use them.

—Built more than 20 fields capable of handling jets in North Korea only minutes away from vital targets in the south.

—Built up a 770-plane air force which includes some 500 MIG Jet fighters and about 100 Soviet-built twin-jet IL-28 attack bombers.

—Increased the North Korean army from 287,000 men at armistice time to 392,000 today.

American commanders say that, on the other hand, the United Nations command has scrupulously observed the armistice terms. The result is that anti-Communist forces are equipped with inferior, outdated equipment, the commanders report.

Armies About Equal

Intelligence forces say the two armies are about equal in numbers—in the south 600,000 South Koreans, two U.S. divisions and smaller U.N. contingents totalling 760,000; in the north, 392,000 North Koreans and 335,000 Chinese for a total of 727,000. But additional thousands of Chinese are encamped across the border. The North Korean air force is at least double that of South Korea, these reports say.

Rhee told United Press that the Communists are aware of their "superior power" and "confident that another surprise attack might really succeed this time."

"If there had been any real sense of justice in international dealings," the President said, "the so-called armistice agreement would long ago have been declared dead and buried."

Red Attack Possible

South Korean military commanders say they consider a North Korean attack inevitable if the U.N. alone continues to abide by the armistice terms.

"In my estimation the enemy will attack sooner or later," Gen. Chung Il Kwon, chairman of the Rok joint chiefs of staff, said.

Rok Army Staff Chief Gen. Lee Heng Kun warned that his own troops might take "desperate action" unless they received new weapons.

"At present," he said, "Korean army morale is high, but I am worried how long it can be maintained. They (Rok troops) may try to use their weapons while they are usable and available."

Questions, Answers About the TV World

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UP) — The mail bag:

Question: My small boy is a fan of CBS-TV's "Robin Hood." Lately, he has taken to shooting arrows around the house much to the discomfort of my mother-in-law who almost has been nicked a couple of times. Do you have any solution to this problem?

Answer: Try CBS-TV's "Air Power." Instruction in the use of modern weapons may improve his aim.

Question: A face keeps appearing in the middle of my TV screen even after I have turned it off. What does this mean?

Answer: You have what TV repairmen call a "ghost." Try for one more face and you'll have a ghost-to-ghost set.

Question: Baseball has become a problem at our house. My husband wants to watch it on TV at night while I prefer comedy shows. Any suggestions?

Answer: Watching the New York Giants should satisfy both of you.

Question: Why do the musicians on the Lawrence Welk show smile all the time?

Answer: They're not really smiling. They're gritting their teeth so they won't have to listen to the music.

Question: My husband loves science-fiction TV shows, but recently he has been acting rather strangely — he seems to believe he is a flying saucer. This isn't too bad except that he keeps the children awake by zooming around the living room at night. Are we in trouble?

Answer: Be thankful for small things, madam. There is a gentleman in Asbury Park, N.J., who has seen so many westerns he thinks he is a horse. He was last seen galloping through Trenton.

Question: Whenever we tune in "Navy Log" on our TV set, water leaks out of the screen onto our carpet. Is there anything we can do about this?

Answer: You can switch to "Sgt. Preston of the Yukon" and enjoy the blizzard.

Question: I have a three-year-old son who is an expert in paleontology, archeology, geology, zoology, ichthyology, psychology, mineralogy, criminology, entomology and Gilbert and Sullivan. What should I do with him?

Answer: Drown him.

Question: I've been hearing a lot about TV ratings lately. What's a rating?

Answer: A rating is two telephone calls made to a small boy in Chicago who is watching wrestling on TV while he does his homework.

Heed Early Warnings That Might Be Cancer

By H. N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

Cancer of the genito-urinary tract takes a heavy toll in human life. One of the most common forms of cancer in men, particularly those beyond middle age, it accounts for nearly one-fifth of all male cancer deaths.

Yet, like most other forms of this disease, genito-urinary cancer usually can be cured if it is treated promptly.

The danger lies in the fact that you may fail to recognize the vague early symptoms. These symptoms sometimes are so slight that doctors cannot persuade patients they need treatment even after a positive diagnosis is made.

Like virtually all forms of cancer, cancer of the genito-urinary tract is pretty much a mystery to us. However, statistics show us that elderly persons most often are the victims. We also know that the cancer sometimes is associated with certain substances in the urine.

The urine contains many foreign waste materials which enter your body through the mouth, lungs and skin. The American Cancer Society points out that long exposure of the tissues of the urinary tract to certain of these substances has been shown to be associated with an increased incidence of cancer.

We also believe that chronic irritations and inflammations may possibly be contributing factors in cancer of the genito-urinary tract and in other parts of the body, too.

Take cancer of the bladder, for example.

There chronic irritation from stones or a long-standing infection might be an important factor in developing cancer.

You have a good chance of preventing serious trouble if you see your doctor as soon as you notice anything unusual. Blood in the urine is a warning sign that should never be ignored.

Even more important for you men past the age of 50 is a complete examination at least once a year. You should not wait for danger signals to develop before seeing your physician.

Third Industry For Saltsburg

SALTSBURG, Pa. (UP)— This Indiana County community is getting this third new industry in less than a year.

The Stanley Manufacturing Division of Gage Engineering Corporation, now located in East McKeesport, will build a plant here and employ 40 persons with an annual payroll of $250,000.

The announcement was made Sunday by Earl Belle, vice president of Eastern Investment and Development Corporation.

Earlier this year the Steiner Manufacturing Company, which makes draperies, opened a new plant here and work now is in progress on a processing plant for the Jiffy Steak Company.

ASKS FOR HAVEN — Marian Zielinski, 23, who came to New York from Poland to take part in the International Trade Fair which ended April 30, came out of hiding to tell his story to INS reporter Jack Lotto. Zielinski said he renounced his Communist-ruled country and asked for asylum in the United States. He said he did not want to go back to Poland because "there is no freedom there."

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

Being Born Harder On a Person Than Dying, Doctor Says

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UP) — According to a well known obstetrician, being born is harder on us than dying.

"Of the two transitions each human being must make, birth and death, all of us already have negotiated the more difficult one and only the easier one confronts us," said Prof. Allan C. Barnes.

"Consider the situation" in which the unborn infant lives, he said in lecturing a medical audience. "With an oxygen supply corresponding to that of an altitude of 33,000 feet, its environment is equivalent to living about three quarters of a mile above the top of Mount Everest.

"If you and I were living in a similar situation and then were subjected to one of the most stressful phenomena of our existence, (being born,) we probably would not make the grade with as low a mortality rate."

Barnes, who is professor of obstetrics and gynecology at Western Reserve University, Cleveland, was emphasizing the fact that the unborn is "shut in a closed room" and gets its oxygen and nourishment "entirely through one aperture."

That "aperture" is the placenta, that miraculous organ which forms in the womb for the one purpose of seeing the unborn through its development and its final emergence into the world as a formed and functioning individual. Barnes reminded a recent meeting of the Interstate Postgraduate Medical Association that the placenta was efficient for a strictly limited time.

"Let us consider the ages of the persons who convene in the delivery room," he said. "The mother is at the peak of her career, so to speak. Her tissues are young and vigorous. The baby is just beginning his life. His tissues are new and he has a life expectancy of 68 years.

"The obstetrician usually feels aged, no matter how old he really is, but he still has some time ahead of him. But the human placenta is senile. Its arteries are hardened; its tissues are calcified. It is a dying organ. It is the oldest tissue in the delivery room from the standpoint of functional ability and capacity."

Therefore, it is extremely important for obstetricians to be alert to the continuing "sufficiency" of the placenta as the time for the emergence of the unborn approaches, he emphasized. One trouble is that prospective mothers aren't helpful enough in providing the data from which the obstetrician could estimate when that time would be.

Prospective mothers can help, even so, by being alert to the first "quickening" of the unborn. But the oostetrician must tell them what that first "quickening" is likely to be.

"Initially it is not, of course, a kick," he said. "It is not a blow. It is the fluttering of a butterfly trapped in the hand, the rising of a bubble against a hand held under water."

HEIR WEDS COOK — Oil heir William Wallace Mein III, 21, and his bride, formerly the Mein family cook, leave St. James Roman Catholic church in San Francisco after marriage. He's a Marine private. The bride, 24, is the former Isolde Constantini, a German immigrant who has been in the U. S. 15 months. Mein's parents opposed them.

Revise Regulations On Livestock Sales

By UNITED PRESS

Regulations which govern community livestock sales of beef and dairy cattle in Pennsylvania have been revised by a nine man committee acting on the recommendation of State Secretary of Agriculture William L. Henning.

The proposed effective date for the new regulations is July 1. They will be enforced strictly when they are issued officially by the department within the next few weeks.

Under the new regulations, the State Bureau of Animal Industry will insist on a health certificate for all breeding type cattle sold at community auctions. The move was taken to prevent the spread of animal diseases.

Certificate Available

The bureau planned quick action to make the certificates available as quickly as possible to the farm owners of breeding stock offered for sale. Five regional diagnostic laboratories, and a central laboratory near Harrisburg, were set to provide "plate test" service for Bang's disease.

D. H. A. Milo, the Bureau of Animal Industry director, explained that the plate test service was for emergency purposes.

Sales Rule

There was one important change in the new regulations. Originally a requirement was that the sale of dairy cattle be held on different days than other livestock sales.

However, the new recommendation removed that restriction. But, the sales places must maintain dairy stables separate from the building where the livestock is sold, and the dairy stables must be closed to the public when not in use. Floors are to be of concrete or other equally waterproof material which can be disinfected easily and satisfactorily.

The new recommendations made by Dr. Henning were adopted by the nine man committee which represented the livestock sales operators, the State Dairy and Livestock Health Committee, and the State Department of Agriculture.

Food Promotion

Farmers in Pennsylvania will pay special attention to a conference scheduled for May 28 at Harrisburg to discuss food promotion, and how the farmer can market the food he produces.

The promotional activities of the Pennsylvania Food Marketing Advisory Committee will be discussed, according to an announcement by John L. Rainey, director of the Bureau of Markets for the State Department of Agriculture. The Food Marketing Advisory Committee is composed of leaders in the producer, marketing and consumer fields promoting Pennsylvania farm food products.

An evaluation panel discussion will be held to summarize current programs.

State Secretary of Agriculture Henning will address the group.... as will C. W. Funk, chairman of the marketing advisory committee and director of informational services of the Pennsylvania Farm Bureau.

Oil Wildcatter Is Honored by Salem College

PITTSBURGH (UP) — M. L. (Mike) Benedum, who carved out a career as one of America's top oil wildcatters, was given an honorary doctor of humanics degree here Monday by Salem College of West Virginia.

On hand to see the 82-year-old oilman receive the degree were Governor Cecil H. Underwood of West Virginia; Mayor Roe Bartle of Kansas City, Mo., and Pennsylvania Supreme Court Justice Michael A. Musmanno.

The degree was presented at the Duquesne Club because Benedum in the past had been unable to go to Salem when the school wished to honor him.

The degree was conferred by Dr. S. O. Bond, president-emeritus of the college, who described Benedum as "one of the great men of this age."

Bethesda Postmen To Get Carts To Deliver Mail

WASHINGTON (UP)—Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield will put all 27 mailmen in nearby Bethesda, Md., Wednesday board motorized three - wheel Mailsters costing almost $1,000 apiece.

Postal officials, plagued by congressional budget-cutting and demands for economy, declined to say whether the gadgets will cost or save the taxpayer money in the long run.

A Post Office Department official spokesman, asked about possible savings, told a reporter, "Presumably we will be pinned down to a point where we will have to show some savings." He noted the news release about the Mailsters said they are expected to provide "more economic service."

The Post Office said altogether it has 1,500 Mailsters on order. That would be a total cost of close to $1,500,000.

Apart from cost, the Mailsters apparently are the answer to the tired postman's dream.

The three - wheeled vehicle is protected from the weather, has an enclosed carrying area in the rear and is fully equipped with electrical starter, directional signals and a 7½-horsepower motor.
